North Hills—Then and Now

Twenty years ago a tradition began. It grew, nourished by those who cared. It grows today nourished by those who try—our heritage—North Hills High School—then and now.

In 1959 the first Norhian was published which reflected the experiences of the graduating students. Classes were much smaller then. 270 Seniors and 600 Juniors and Sophomores sauntered through the shiny new halls of North Hills High. The students, awed by the sight of the bright new buses, excitedly strived to catch the first seat by the window. The smaller Senior High Building ended at room 117; the octagon room was to be added years later. As the students day-dreamed and their eyes roamed out the windows, nothing but green grass and rolling hills captured their imaginations.

Twenty years ago North Hills, well known for its high scholastic standards, encouraged students to enroll in either Academic or Business courses. Many teachers, 60 in all, comprised the new faculty; twelve of these: Miss Armstrong, Mr. Gay, Mr. Guadagnino, Mr. Hummel, Mr. Long, Mrs. Ignath, Mr. Harper, Mr. Hare, Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Lacy, Mr. Waldfogle and Miss Rea still teach here today.

In September of 1958 a group of girls with pony tails, wearing bobby socks, circle skirts, strings of pearls and saddle shoes strolled down the halls of the sparkling, new building. They passed by a gathering of boys with crew cuts, all dressed in rolled-up pants and penny loafers and white socks. The girls stopped and anxiously waited for the boys to ask them to Kneiss' Malt Shop on Babcock Blvd. for a soda. Once there the juke box never stopped playing the tunes of Elvis Presley's "You Ain't Nothin' But a Hound Dog," Paul Anka's "Put Your Head On My Shoulder" and Connie Francis' "Where The Boys Are." To the tunes students danced the jitterbug, the stroll and the dirty boogie. Watching them, it was obvious to see they were oblivious to the problems of the world.

Social Events were significant in bringing the class members together. For sophomores the Sock Hop highlighted the Christmas vacation. West View Park's Dance-land, the site of the Junior Prom, was the perfect experience. At Thanksgiving came the annual Turkey Trot Hop at Shannopin Country Club where each Junior class member received green '59 buttons. In the spectacular Senior Year, besides the Senior Dinner Dance, a square dance was arranged in the cafeteria. On May 1 at the annual May Day festival sponsored by the Norhian the Queen received the first copy of the 1959 yearbook.

School was not the center of all activities. Saturday shopping with friends also made an enjoyable day. However, almost all shopping had to be done downtown since McKnight Road was in its infancy of development. The Mall, Gimbels and Kaufmann's did not exist and McDonald's had not been established. The annual School picnic naturally took place at West View Park—the site of fun, excitement and thrills for all.

This was the time of "Ike", Elvis and the Cold War—household words of the fifties. Eisenhower golfed at the White House, Elvis Presley gyrated and Russia and the U. S. both feared the outbreak of another war. It was this that brought the students from the fantasy world of the fifties to the harsh and disquieting reality of the 60's.

The intervening years from then until now have brought changes to the Hilltop. From a beginning class of 270, the size of the student body has grown to 800 Seniors strong along with 2,200 underclassmen. This increase has caused a proportionate change in the size of the buildings.

This change led to the addition of the Senior Building in 1964. As time went on even more space was needed to facilitate new programs and ideas. Therefore, the Morrone Building was established in 1972. The number of faculty members has continued to increase along with the students. 180 teachers and five principals are currently employed on the Hilltop.

The first few students of '58 would be quite surprised to discover CB's and stereo equipment in the buses and students struggling just to get a seat to comfortably enjoy the ride.

As in 1959, North Hills still has its reputation of high scholastic standards. Students have the privilege of choosing an almost totally elective schedule, which provides a more casual atmosphere.

The style of the students of the 70's are much different than those of the 50's. For example, as the students of 1978 walk down the hall, groups of "kids" can be seen who have short hair and are wearing jeans, cowl necks, earth shoes, Levis, print shirts, puma track shoes and even suspenders. Music plays a big part in their lives. The students love to boogie to the sounds of Fleetwood Mac's "Don't Stop Thinking About Tomorrow,"

Boogie and Books

Barry Manilow's "I Write the Songs" and the themes from "Rocky" and "Star Wars." A good football game brings out wild enthusiasm that is evident in the cheer Go Bananas, B-A-N-A-N-A-S! The students' favorite hangout is McDonalds on McKnight Road where after every game red jackets, pom-poms and crowded booths symbolize the malt-shop of today. Ross Township and West View Borough have grown in the past 20 years. McKnight Road, once a small rural drive, is now a six lane expressway where small and large businesses flourish. The Road of the Future

The road of the future begins in the past.

New faces appear, taking the place of those left behind.

Styles change, and the events that once were faded into the past, the memory pleasantly lingering in the minds of those looking on.

Yet, amidst this period of rebuilding lies the hope of tomorrow.

For within those faded memories, friendships were formed.

Together as one, a class grew.

Individuals formed a whole, producing ideas and forming unique creations.

As the years progressed, the styles, the events, and the students changed, yet the uniqueness of each individual remained.

Different talents and skills were combined to form a new class, the class of '78.

This class learned from the memories of yesterday to prepare for the newness of the future.

Yet, the friendships and the closeness between the individuals will always remain the same, then and now.

thrills echoed its last laughter in the summer of 1977. The North Hills area has grown since the 50's and is now a city in itself.

In the seventies, although times have changed, the trends remain the same. Now Jimmy Carter and peanuts capture the imagination of the public. The deaths of Elvis Presley and Bing Crosby, both popular during the fifties, bring heartache to the 70's. Their performances of "Blue Suede Shoes" and "White Christmas" are even more precious to the graduating Seniors.

The re-negotiation of the Panama Canal Treaty makes a new phase in inter-American relations.

Eastern cities are uneasy as prominent steel companies lay off an increasing number of steel workers. Inflation, first increasing then declining slightly, had little effect on Santa Claus who had his biggest year ever as retail sales soared. The graduating class of 1978 with increasing maturity was more aware of national events which have and will influence their lives.

The Class of 1978 takes great pride in presenting in detail the events of its senior year. The traditions begun in 1958 continue today, somewhat altered by the changing years, but still our heritage. Now as Then!

Mrs. Mansfield

Mr. Ceh

The Student Advisory Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Mansfield, helped in arranging the start of new clubs at North Hills, a very complicated procedure. Mrs. Mansfield and the committee made the decisions concerning the fund-raising projects by school clubs.

The athletic department, headed by Mr. Ceh, improved sports competition in the past year. Some changes included a limited unification between girls' and boys' sports. In the instances of both track and golf, the boys' and girls' teams were combined under one coach.

Mrs. Black
Mr. Herchenroether

Mr. Brown
Mr. Langer

There were many art courses available to North Hills High students. The courses were Crafts I and Advanced Crafts, Ceramics I and II, Studio Art, Senior Studio, Film Making, and Jewelry. These courses gave the students chances to draw, paint, sculpture and design new things. The Art Department was not involved in classroom work only, but enjoyed entering talented students' work in contests. Winning students often received cash prizes and scholarships. Two of the tournaments the department engaged in this year were those at Lake Erie College and the Scholastic Controls Gate Contest.

Mr. Gardill

Miss Segal

The A. V. Department handled the audio visual equipment for the entire North Hills School District. It reached into the classrooms through teachers, coordinators and principals.

Mr. Gardill, the A. V. Director, hoped to stimulate student interest in the A. V. Department through the use of a new radio console and video tape program. State funds were awarded which aided the expansion of this program.

Miss Segal was the liaison between Beattie Tech and NH. She counseled the students at NH who were involved with Beattie Tech.

"There's something for everyone," stated Miss Armstrong, the Business Coordinator, as she spoke of business course offerings. Personal Shorthand, Personal Typing, Personal Law, Record Keeping and Exploratory courses, recently opened to Juniors and Seniors, were some of the business classes offered.

Of the new additions to the curriculum, Contracts, Data Processing, and Money Credit Management, which taught students how to use credit cards, and how to balance a budget, excited them the most.

One of the Business Department's vital functions was as a placement center. With business skills learned at North Hills, many students received jobs at some of the large corporations in the city of Pittsburgh.

A civil service test was given this spring which included typing and steno skills.

Mrs. Mountain

The Career Resource Center, located in the Senior High building, was the place where frantic Seniors and Juniors went to receive help in discovering and developing their post-graduate plans. Under the direction of Mrs. Mountain, students developed career awareness and self-assessment. The center, with its vast resource material on colleges and careers was well-known throughout the Pittsburgh area. Mrs. Mountain helped the four to five hundred students who used the center each month, conducted seminars for the GATE program, and worked with the teachers in classroom situations.

Co-op Counseling

Mrs. Arthurs

Mr. Holden

Co-op was a vocational education program that enabled and prepared students to enter the job market. It was a work study program that dealt with technical and manual positions. Students in Co-op spent half of their day in school and the rest of the day working at their job. Some were involved in business, restaurant and vocational work. The Co-op student had an English and Social Studies course every morning before leaving for his job. The average Co-op student was not college bound but usually remained with his same job out of school, or another job closely related to his interest.

Counseling Distributive Ed. Driver's Ed

The Guidance Department effectively aided students on a personal level in college and career choices and in course scheduling. Its biggest achievement this year was the institution of the Peer Counseling Program. Some students from North Hills who attended a twelve-week training program counseled other students in various areas.

Besides the relocation of the Morrone Building counselors to the rotunda, a new College Tour Program was offered to the Juniors and Seniors. The Department was also involved with testing and helping students with personal problems.

Mrs. Cooke

Distributive Education, taught by Mrs. Cooke, dealt mainly with marketing, selling, advertising, display, merchandising and sales. Students in Distributive Ed. attended school daily, and half-way through their day left to deal with business opportunities. Distributive Education students had an exceptional opportunity generally denied the regular student. They were able to test daily the instruction they received in the classroom situation. Also, an extra added benefit was that the students received pay for the work they did.

Each student becomes eligible to elect Driver's Education at sixteen. Under the direction of Mr. John Ignatius, instructors Kelly, Bado, Stebler, Rice, and Peters, taught 650 students this year. Included were three phases: theory, which discussed the essential questions in driving; simulators, installed in 1974 to teach drivers to recognize and react effectively to situations as they occurred; and three hours of actual driving experience which developed the basic mechanical skills involved in driving a car.

The English Department, after five years of leadership by Dr. James Brozick, emerged this year as the most developed elective system in our curriculum. Three years had passed since the introduction of English electives and new courses were added to the over thirty-five selections already available.

Additions this year included Advanced Composition, English Literature I and II, and Language Skills for College. These new and innovative courses had proved to be an expression of the flexibility of faculty and student interests.

Some already established English electives that aroused student participation were, Inside the Mind, Science Fiction, Search for Identity, Realm of Mystery, and Contemporary Literature.

Dr. Brozick and the English faculty plan an even wider selection of courses in the future as North Hills students require broader experiences.

The Home Economics Department strove to prepare students to be responsible citizens and to handle outside jobs as well as those in the home. It also tried to integrate boys into the program and succeeded in this goal.

Changes included the development of new teaching methods and evaluations, and a new updated curriculum. In 76-77, the foods and nutrition curriculum was revised offering three semesters opposed to two.

Advanced clothing and Needlework students were encouraged to enter contests by local Womens' Clubs.

Home Ec. teachers were involved in local, state, and national Home Ec. associations. This made them aware of current and up to date trends in their Department.

The Industrial Arts classes had an enrollment of 1,000 students, with more girls than ever taking classes. The teachers felt there were many reasons for this large number.

One factor was the offering of Power Tech and Electricity Electronics. There has also been a general updating of the equipment and curriculum.

Language Library Mathematics

Mrs. Preuss

The Language Department of the 1977-1978 school year offered four additional elective programs to North Hills. These electives were German, French, Latin and Spanish. There was also an Independent Study program offered for fifth year German students. One of the goals of the Department is to add a fifth year program to all the languages.

Mr. Molnar, head of the Language Department for 10 years, was especially proud of the participation by the German students in an annual national test competition. They hoped to be included in part of the nation-wide AP program.

Mrs. Ahlstrom

Mrs. Persinger

"The libraries in the North Hills School District were pioneers in their field. The equipment, books, and programs were among the best in school libraries," commented Miss Rea.

The library helped students develop an ability to locate information through the use of available resource materials and a love for reading through new and innovative programs, books, and equipment.

The Math Department under the direction of the new coordinator Mr. Crupie began no new courses but tried to improve upon programs already being taught.

Students had a wide variety of Math Courses from which to choose including General Math and Probability and Statistics. Consumer Math students learned how to buy cars and houses, purchase insurance, and how to fill out Income Tax forms and applications. The A. P. Calculus Course expanded to two classes this year due to the increased enrollment. The number of Trigonometry students also increased, and the class size grew.

The Music Department, headed by Mr. Mercer, was bigger and better than ever. The band was expanded from three to four groups; Symphony, Symphonic, Concert and Varsity bands with an enrollment of 280 students. Mr. Klemens assisted by directing seven ensembles, two of the bands and conducting music theory classes.

The Orchestra, was now in its sixth year under the direction of Mr. DelMonte. It had almost doubled in size due to the growth of the string program in North Hills. The Chorus, directed by Mr. Cummings, also increased its pupil enrollment with expansion of the ninth grade chorus.

Mrs. Brush

Mrs. Newton

Mrs. Eleanor Brush, health program coordinator and 11th and 12th grade nurse, finished her 8th year at North Hills. Mrs. Ellen Newton, the 9th and 10th grade nurse, completed her 9th year on the hilltop. They cared for emergency cases, sickness, and injuries. Mrs. Brush and Mrs. Newton were busy with screening and physicals for working permits and sports. They also functioned as counselors to students interested in nursing.

Mrs. Altmire
Mrs. Williams

Miss Warren

North Hills offered additional help to students through the service of paraprofessionals. Mrs. Altmire, one of the paraprofessionals, made Math more understandable to students. This year Miss Warren was added to the program so that students could also have assistance in Social Studies and Science.

Mrs. Williams, the third paraprofes-

This program was called Life-time Sports because it provided the opportunity for students to develop skills in a sport in which they can participate later in life. The plans for the future included the extension of the Life-time Sports to the Morrone Building.

Dr. Brown
Mr. Napolitan

Mr. Hohman
Mr. Venditto

Dr. Brown already noticed a more positive attitude of concern between students and faculty after only two years at North Hills. As principal of the freshman class, he handled 740 students and the Speech and Art Departments.

Dr. Brown's goals for this year were to gain a sense of unity between grades and to begin an alternative school for students unable to function in a normal classroom situation.

Principals also had the responsibility of periodically rating the classroom performance of each teacher who reported to their office.

A twenty year veteran in the education field, Mr. Hohman had seen many changes. The biggest change however in his six years on the hilltop had been a new disciplinary system resulting in a drop in vandalism and class cuts. "The kids were better this year. There was just a friendlier atmosphere," said Mr. Hohman.

Mr. Hohman would rather be remembered as an education principal and not as the disciplinarian.

Although some of his job demands require some disciplinary actions, he considers this role secondary to his educational responsibilities.

Principals Reading

As the 11th grade principal, Mr. Napolitan took personal charge of 810 Juniors. He also supervised the English, Drivers Education, and Home Economics Departments as well as Vocational and Reading programs. He had also been instrumental in the disciplinary course of action taken at North Hills and had maintained some semblance of order within our walls.

Mr. Napolitan believed the main objective of school to be a solid education, and for all students to discover who they are, and to have fun doing it!

Mr. Venditto, part of North Hills' administrative branch for some years, had temporarily assumed the responsibility for the entire complex on the hilltop, as well as the senior class of 850 students.

Mr. Venditto had become a well-known personality to all because of his active participation in school functions and his instigation of the traditional celebration of famous American birthdays.

In Mr. Venditto's position as principal, he became the connecting link between the district's managerial offices and the faculty of both buildings.

Miss Alcock
Mr. Madzelonka

Mrs. Colossimo

The Reading Department, headed by Mrs. Alcock, helped students increase speed, vocabulary, study skills and listening skills, by using certain techniques and equipment. Mrs. Col-ossimo and Mr. Madzelonka, reading specialists, taught Power Reading, Effective Reading, and Individualized Reading. The total student enrollment in these courses increased to 430, due mainly to the fact that it was a self-improvement class. The student was set on his own reading level and progressed at his own rate. The department tried to select the most beneficial program for the students.

The School Board elected certain students as Lunchroom Aides at the rate of $2.20 per hour in the winter and spring of 1977. They also changed some teacher positions.

Due to the very bad winter of '77, the School Board recognized that flexible in-service days would be the best answer to the weather problem. Another job of the School Board was to appoint personnel to coach athletic teams and sponsor activities.

In 1976 the Board adopted a district testing program which gave the school an idea of how it was progressing in all areas. The Board promised that the results would not simply be filed away but would be shared with all.

This year, over 900 students selected advanced science courses as additions to their curriculum. Science has always been one of the most popular areas of study for the student body at North Hills, but this year the large numbers spoke for themselves. Although the multitude increased, it did not cause the already large department to expand any further.

Some of the more glamorous aspects of the science field include college credit for advanced placement courses taken in high school and increased personal knowledge of the physical and theoretical laws of nature.

Seventeen dedicated and knowledgeable faculty members involved in the science program drew their students into the complex world of Physics, Chemistry, and Biology. No doubt, the scientists of the future will be our students of the past.

The secretaries at North Hills had many duties and responsibilities critical to the successful operation of our school. They were assistants to the principals, the staff, and the student body. We had burdened them with every possible task from issuing tardy slips to acting as part-time counselors and full-time problem solvers. Each addition to the disciplinary or educational policies gave our secretaries more and more to do.

How many times have our secretaries been instrumental in helping to organize the school life of each student? Of course, their regular duties of typing, filing, and sending and receiving correspondence was an integral part of their jobs. But it was the extra responsibilities taken by each secretary that made them indispensable.

Mr. Cohen

The Security Department at North Hills had many responsibilities and duties. The personnel controlled traffic on the hilltop, gave fines for parking violations, and issued parking permits.

The safety of the school district's building and occupants and court appearances on behalf of the District were all labeled as their duties. They also tried to prevent vandalism and drug abuse by students and acted as a liaison with Ross and West View police.

Although no new programs were added to the curriculum, the teachers attempted to adapt the classes to fit the needs of the students. The ninth grade program consisted of American Political Behavior, while the Sophomore program focused on World Cultures. Juniors had to take either American Studies, a topical approach to America and its problems or the special A. P. American and A. P. European History classes.

Seniors chose their courses from a wide range of electives that included Sociology, Law and Justice, Economics, Urban America, Current Issues, Comparative Religions and Science in Society.

Mr. Rice felt that there "Was a need to make students more aware of Social Studies and make it more appealing and interesting."

The Speech Arts program consisted of a variety of class options. Courses in Speech Arts, Radio Broadcasting, Television, Theater, Debate, Communications and Stage Productions were some of the speech electives available to the students. Headed by Mrs. Madden, the department enabled the students to communicate better with the fast moving society in the U. S. in 1978. The speech classes continued to grow mainly because the courses were relevant to society and the students found the courses enjoyable. The Speech Arts Department offers a variety of courses to North Hills students.

Dr. Geller
Dr. Bird

Dr. Jary

This year, the North Hills School District was swung into full gear by Doctors Geller, Jary, and Bird, Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, and Administrative Assistant respectively.

They had joined forces early this fall to develop and introduce systems for Program Planning, Budgeting, and Evaluation. The realm of the superintendent's responsibilities included the implementing of a strong supervisory hand over methods of reporting student achievement, their behavior, and attendance to parents. They also reviewed new programs of curriculum study, experimentation and research.

Together, Geller, Jary, and Bird also prepared the annual budget for adoption by the Board of Education and collectively maintained the standards within the district in spite of the tight economic plan. Under all the specifications and regulations set by the Board of Education, our superintendents monitored our education.

In Memoriam

Mae Elizabeth Sturges
1919-1977

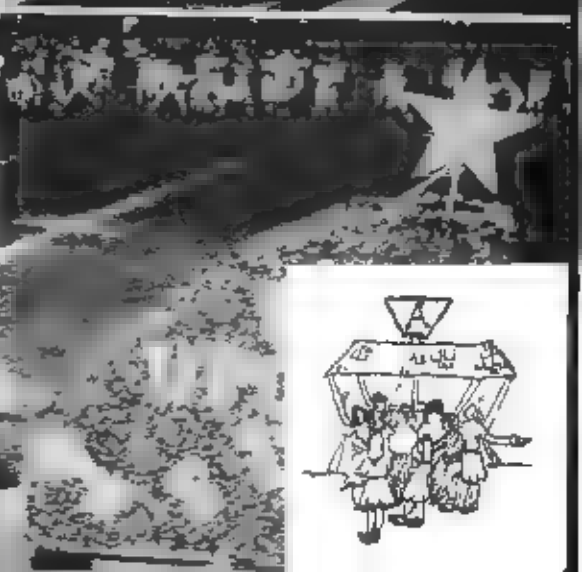

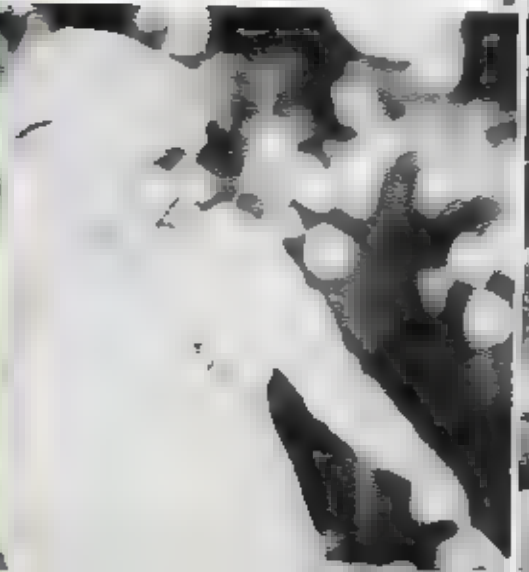

The Senior Class of 1978 remembers fondly the secretary in the office who wrote out the late passes for us. Mrs. Sturges had been one of the secretaries for our class for a year and a half before her death. She liked young people and found working in the central office involving and exciting.

Mrs. Sturges began working for North Hills Schools in 1957 as a secretary at Highland Elementary School. There she kept the records of young children. She was transferred to the Guidance Department at the Senior High School where she again met the students from Highland and their friends. Later she became one of Mr. Hartman's secretaries in the main office. She also worked for Mr. Harper and Mr. Venditto.

A life long resident of West View and famous for the Easter candy she enjoyed making for the community, Mrs. Sturges will be remembered not only by us but by many of our parents and grandparents.

ACTIVITIES

The Foreign Exchange

The American Field Service was an international organization formed to promote better understanding between countries and among people through student exchanges.

The club boasted of a membership of sixty students. Members were asked to attend meetings and to be truly interested in learning about people of other countries.

The officers were President Patty Schies, Vice-President Bev Mitzel, Secretary Chris Scott, and Treasurer Amy Wire.

Under the direction of Ms. Peters, A.F.S. was involved in the North Hills Flea Market, held a car wash, sold stationery, and the North Hills "Scalp em" buttons. They also took part in the "A. F. S. Week" where students who had been overseas came to talk to Social Studies classes. The A.F.S. Club also sponsored a "Social", in which the faculty and students had a chance to meet the exchange student from Finland, Juha Taipale, and listen to Diane Lang speak about Mexico.

Any student enrolled in an AP course was eligible to become a member of the Advanced Placement Club. In 1977-78 there were seventy-eight members, the largest number in the club's history. The club raised money through various activities to offset the cost of the examination fees for the AP tests taken in May. They participated in the Annual Flea Market and had a car wash in April. Several speakers were also invited to lecture on different topics that were of interest to many students.

AP History teacher, Mr. Elmer Pohl, sponsored the AP Club. The officers who were elected in September were President Jim Buckley, Secretary Kevin Brown, and Treasurer Cathy Waddell. The vice-president was Junior Doug Lee, who will become president of the club next year.

Arrowhead MAINTAINS HIGH STANDARDS

The Senior High newspaper, The Arrowhead, provided its readers with information concerning news and sports of not only North Hills High School but also the entire Ross-West View Community. As a financially self-sufficient organization, The Arrowhead never failed to maintain high standards in all phases of publication.

Under the leadership of Editor-in-Chief Dave Kraus and sponsor Ms. Matviko, the fifty-five active members published not only the issues of The Arrowhead but also the Senior Wills.

Because of the recently adopted "Guidelines for Student Newspapers," The Arrowhead has never, in its 37-year history, had so much freedom in which to fulfill its purpose—"to promote journalism, inform the student body of vital happenings, and to provide an outlet for creative and factual writing."

Synchronized Swimming Continues To Be a Success

The swimming pool at North Hills set the stage for approximately twenty girls to swim to the music of the Pink Panther in a synchronized swimming show. Included were group routines, duets, and solos. It was the exhibition of the North Hills High School branch of the A. A. U. Swim Team.

Mrs. Doris Scott coached the show with the assistance of Linda Scott. Mr. Morris was the faculty sponsor and Sandy McClelland, Secretary/Treasurer, handled the paperwork and finances.

These people and the other performers made the Aquatics' fourth year a success.

ENSEMBLES

Stage Band was comprised of some of the best trumpets, saxes and trombones from symphony band. The group played compositions from various jazz, rock and pop composers. They performed at school assemblies, competitions, basketball games and concerts.

The Rock Ensemble played Contemporary songs while Glenn Guadagnino and Nancy Cooney added their melodic voices. The players in this ensemble brightened up the people around them while adding something new to the sound of music at North Hills.

The Brass Ensemble of 1978 consisted of 21 fine players that wherever they went to perform, they filled the air with joy and excitement. When the ensemble got together to rehearse and perform, they reminded you of the English Brass Bands of long ago. The Brass Ensemble of '78 will long be remembered by the 21 members who put in their time and practice to help make it great.

The Sax Quartet specialized in songs emphasizing the strong qualities needed to be a saxophone musician. These players spent much time rehearsing to play fine-quality music.

There were about eight determined players in the clarinet choir who were ready and willing to learn and experiment with the various types of clarinets available. It took many years of hard work and patience to completely learn the type of music used for clarinets. The satisfaction and excitement will always be remembered by the musicians of the clarinet choir.

The Flute Ensemble was composed of a few talented musicians. This small group of flutists had played in different churches, and at a concert in December. These players specialized in classical music, especially Bach. Their musical talents were brought forth and together at rehearsals three days a week. Not only did it take time, patience, knowledge and talent, but great determination to become a success.

The group of seven percussion players in the Percussion Ensemble started a new thing in the North Hills Band Department. They played a mixture of drums and mallet instruments to help add a nice sound to the Band Department of '78.

Come From Many Hours of Practice

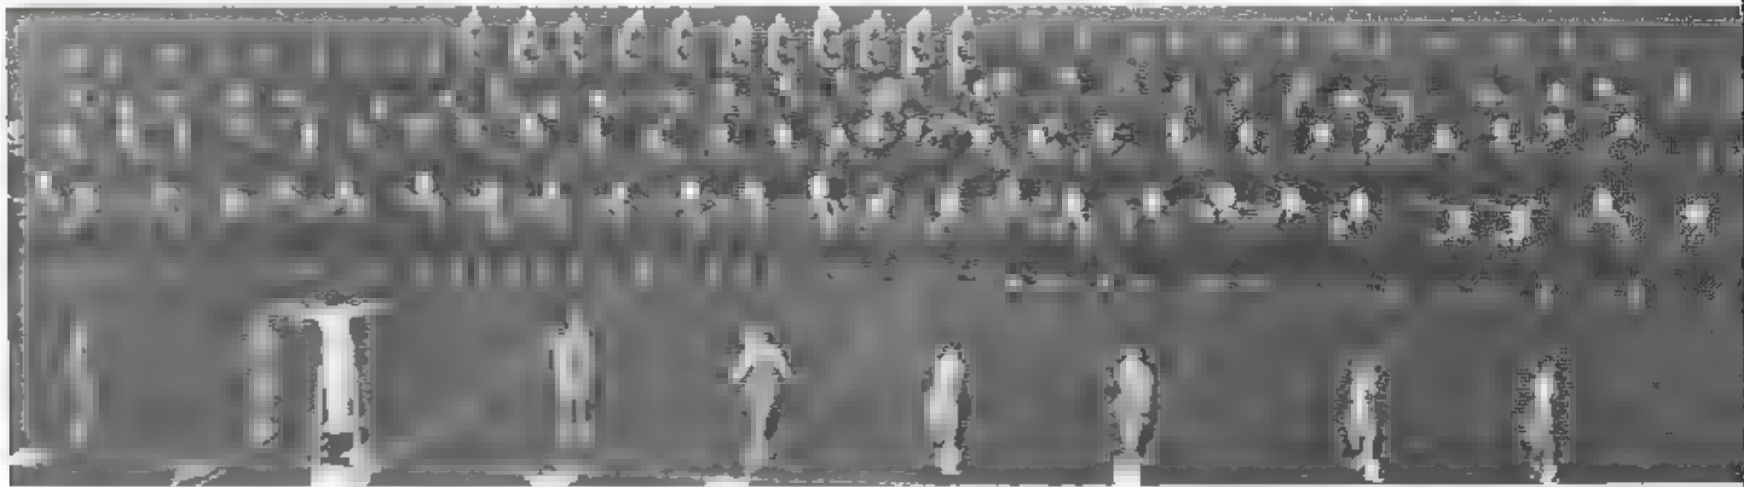

WORKING AS ONE

The Marching Band of '78 began on June 20th, 1977. By early July, Mr. Mercer, Mr. Klemens, and Miss Kalogeros had selected the flagline, majorettes, and players. Throughout the summer, the 1977 members of the band practiced three nights a week, working hard to learn the music and routines. The third week of August was a week of anticipation. The Band practiced every night in preparation for Camp. On August 20th, the band left for Fombell, Pa., the home of Camp Kon O-Kwee. Ahead of them lay a week of trials, tribulations, discipline, determination, togetherness, and caring. During the week, old and new traditions were upheld such as the Master and Slave relationships, double CH's, morning exercise, dressing up for dances, Stars and Rats, Bandmales, initiation night, and the climax of the work, the Friday night show. Friday night at camp was a conglomeration of excitement, fun, pride, and the unity that comes when a group of individuals does something great together.

In no time at all it was football season and halftime became a show in itself. Rocky, Sir Duke, and Star Wars were just a few of the exciting sounds that made the 1977-78 marching band one of the best. The Band Seniors of '78 will leave, but will always be remembered as No. 1.

BAND CONTINUES TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

Once again, the 1978 Symphony Band continued its tradition of excellence at North Hills. The band, under the direction of Mr. Warren S. Mercer, Jr., was comprised of eighty-six hard working, dedicated students.

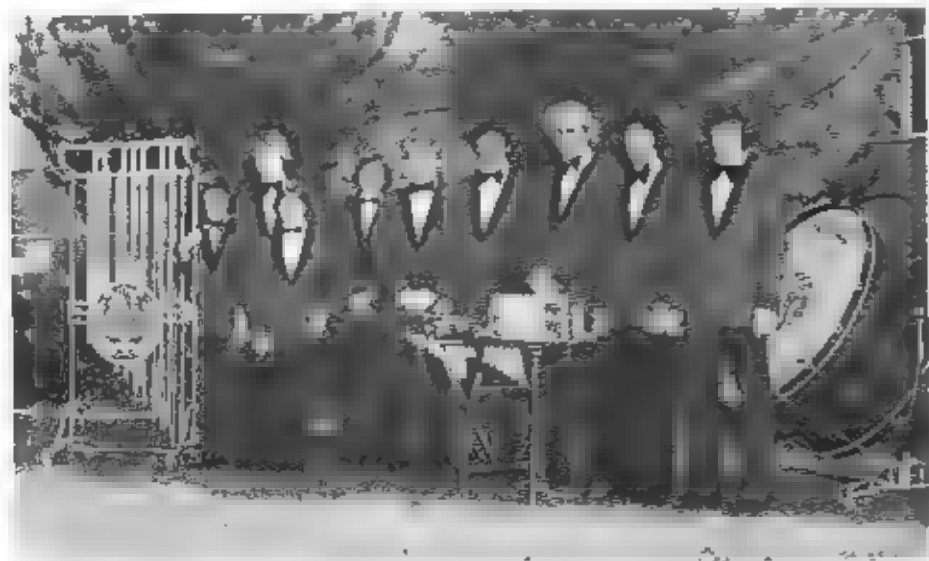

The band presented four concerts this year. The winter concert was held December 9, 1977, when the band gave its first public performance of the year. The second program was given on February 18, 1978 and featured members of the Pittsburgh Symphony as soloists. "Toccata" by Joseph W. Jenkins of Duquesne University was commissioned by the band and was premiered at the March 1978 concert. The final show for the 1978 band was presented in May and featured special guest Henry Mancini.

To raise money for their trip to Toronto, Canada for the International Music Festival, the band sold hoagies, held a card party, bazaar, and raffles.

Symphony Band—to all involved these works represented many exhausting hours of applied energy, practice and work. But the sacrifices proved worthwhile for the band members. The 1978 Symphony Band was an experience in discipline, pride, and unity that will never be forgotten.

VIBRATIONS

The North Hills Senior High School Orchestra's sixth year proved to be one of growth and development. What began as a small fifteen-member group six years ago had more than doubled in size due to the increased interest in the string program throughout the district.

Led by Mr. DelMonte, affectionately known as Mr. "D", the orchestra was composed of string, wind and percussion instruments. It held Christmas and Spring concerts that were open to the community and gave special assemblies at West View and Ross Junior High. The music played was not only classical but popular as well.

Also, several students earned the opportunity to participate in special district, regional and state orchestras where they performed with the area's best musicians.

To raise money students volunteered to work at a booth in the Flea Market. Orchestra provided students a chance to develop their musical skills in an informal and fun atmosphere.

German Club Grows

German Club after an exceptional year in 1977 doubled its membership in 1978. The officers, President Carol Zang, Vice-President Ann Cassler, Treasurer Cvd Baer, and Secretary Terry Hartley, worked diligently to coordinate activities, which included an Octoberfest, a Christmas party, Christmas caroling at a rest home and a short trip. The club participated in the Chorus Flea Market where profit was made through the sale of German food and crafts and in the American Field Service Food Fair in the Spring. Mr. Ernest Molnar, club sponsor, hoped that through activities the German Club could promote the study of the German language and culture in an interesting manner, attractive to students.

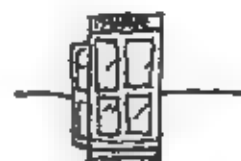

Interest was maintained in the club throughout the entire year because it remained active. Through weekly meetings, capable leadership, and industrious membership, the club had a successful year.

STRIKE!

One of the most enthusiastically received, year-round activities offered to the student body was bowling. The participation drawn by this activity was due mainly to its social and athletic appeal.

During the school year the Bowling Club met every Wednesday at the McKnight Lanes Bowling alley. These sessions lasted two hours for the over one hundred competitors. The students occupied twenty-six lanes to accommodate the club's large membership.

The officers for the 1977-1978 year were President—Jim Orr, Secretaries—Marla Mascari and Laura Dugan, and Treasurer—Patty Dugan. Mrs. Caldwell sponsored the organization and assisted the students in their preparations for the annual Bowling Banquet and boat ride scheduled for late in the year

Smile You're on Candid Camera

The North Hills Film Club was one organization on the hilltop that tried to stay in focus.

Mr. Langer was the club's sponsor and it met Thursdays after school. The meetings were informal where members learned and discussed film production and directing. They also did their shooting, planning and editing at this time. Films were made with live actors or animated ones and the only restriction was that they be rated "G".

A few students used their own equipment, but the majority used movie cameras provided by the school. The students put much work into their productions, but they still liked CATCHING THAT CANDID SMILE!

Managers of School Spirit

School spirit was the responsibility of fourteen enthusiastic girls. The Cheerleaders were supported by many exuberant TRIBE members, parents, and North Hills students. The only two seniors on the varsity squad were Captains Pam Kinnen and Diane Mergenthaler. The Co-captains were Peggy Carr and Mary Jeanne Meyers. This year the new Cheerleading sponsor was Mrs. Rupert, and the managers were Linda Marty and Mary Smith.

Clap Your Hands! Sing Your Song!

Let's go Frank's Tanks! ... I'm from North Hills Choir and we are selling! ... Who has folder number seven? Where's my robe? ... We're united sons and daughters. Fa, Fa, Fa, Fa, Fa, Fa, Oo----- Spirit ... Unity Music ... Harmony ... Dedication. That was what Symphonic Choir was all about. The select group of about one hundred people which comprised Symphonic Choir grew and matured under the guidance of Mr. Frank Cummings.

Right from the start the students immersed themselves in the excitement of Symphonic Choir. New red folders for all the voice classes set the tone for a surprising year and the enthusiasm kept building. It carried all the way through the Fifth Annual Flea Market, the building of the Homecoming Float and through the annual Band-Chorus football game where the cheering of Frank's Tankettes spurred Frank's Tanks to a 20-2 victory.

The Choir displayed its spirit and unity by singing the Alma Mater at the Pep Assemblies.

Once the Mexico Choir was chosen the job of raising money began. Choir members could be found all over North Hills selling concert and raffle tickets, calendars, jewelry, candy, and doughnuts. The thrill and the joy felt by the Choir at the traditional, candlelight Christmas Concert was matched by the sensation experienced by the audience. The Spring Concert gave the Choir of 78 its last chance to perform together. Then it was off to Mexico with a chosen group of about sixty members where North Hills Choir upheld its tradition of excellent and competitive singing.

The Working Class

All students enrolled in the Cooperative Education program were eligible to join the Co-op Club that was organized last year.

Students gained leadership abilities and social skills which they used in their Annual charitable project, the Thanksgiving food contribution to Rev. Allbright for the Youth Opportunities Unlimited on the North Side. To raise money, Co-op sponsored a booth at the flea market. They also had a Christmas Social which included bowling and lunch at McKnight Lanes and another Social in the spring.

Co-op was under the leadership of Mrs. Arthurs and Mr. Holden, faculty sponsors. The officers were President Bill Ryan, Vice-President John Tobolski, Secretary Janet Nickolay and Treasurer Chris Eichler.

The Debate Club tried to follow in the path established last year by winning the district tournament and setting off for nationals. The Club, with the guidance of Chairman Bill Evans, met regularly and worked efficiently in order to be successful at each weekly tournament. Debate Club had twenty-five members; a large majority of these members attended a tournament every Saturday. The team, under the direction of Mr. Rice and assistant advisor, Mr. Pohl, participated in twenty-five tournaments, hosted the North Hills Invitational Tournament along with the Speech Club and organized a spring workshop on debate. The debaters annually offered a high school assembly in which the Pitt Public Debate Team participated. Debating was an enjoyable, academic game where students could gain worthwhile speaking and thinking skills which trained them for future life. This year's national debate question, "What would be the best national health care policy?" To hopefully put the team on the right speaking track and take them to Chicago in June, the landmark of this year's national tournament.

FORENSICS-THE TALK

The one-hundred sixty five who comprised the Drama Club worked hard to make this year's projects a huge success. Their main purpose, according to club chairman Diane Bohn, was to "produce all the school productions by working on various crews." These ranged from a publishing house, set construction, lighting and sound effects to actors, directors, assistants, make-up and costumers. All drama members were required to enroll in at least one or more plays. The organization projects, which include spring and fall plays, one-act play competitions, and the children's play, were under the direction of Mr. Glenn Richey and Mrs. Linda Brown. Mrs. Brown believed that the best ingredient of a good performance was "the total sum of all the people working together cooperatively."

OF NORTH HILLS

Tim Sutherland

Speech Club, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Peggy Madden, worked long hours to train present-day Demosthenes in the skills of oratory. With some members specializing in original, persuasive, and extemporaneous speaking, the organization also encouraged readings of both prose and poetry.

Frequently, free time on Saturday was given by the members to participate in local and county speech tournaments with many trophies and commendations as rewards. Several outstanding North Hills students represented the school at state-level competitions.

Getting Down to Business

The Future Business Leaders of America was a National organization for high school students enrolled in business education programs. In Pennsylvania the FBLA was organized on three levels; state, regional, and local.

The North Hills chapter of FBLA participated in the State Leadership Workshop at Robert Morris College, the Regional Leadership Workshop, and the State Leadership Conference in May at Host Farms. FBLA also sponsored several activities. A banquet in May and an Awards Assembly were held to recognize outstanding members. They raised money by selling "Senior '78" mugs and peanut brittle. At Christmas time they collected money for Children's Hospital.

The Future Homemakers of America was comprised of all of the students who were involved in a Home Economics course.

With the help from sponsor Mrs. Wischart, FHA presented different areas of Home Economics to students through projects in the classroom. They worked on activities for the different holidays or special occasions throughout the year. Some of their more special projects were making earrings, growing plants and making corn husk dolls.

"Serving Others"

The Future Nurses of America Club was comprised of eleventh and twelfth grade students who were interested in careers in nursing and health. The school nurse, Mrs. Brush, was the FNA sponsor.

The 1977-78 officers were: Sue Pivrotto, President; Mary Jo Becker, Secretary; and Lori Joswiak, Treasurer.

The FNA had twelve members who assisted with Community Health activities such as the Immunization Clinic and the Health-O Rama. The FNA served its members by helping them to share their interests in health, by exploring health fields and schools of nursing and by giving them the opportunity to grow as individuals by working together and serving others.

Passing the Puck!

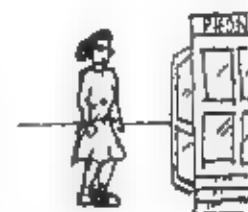

The Hockey Team was not officially recognized as a sport by the school district but functioned as a club. Under the fine leadership of Coach Mr. Hubert and Assistant Coach John Hollands, the team successfully overcame many obstacles. Hockey was the only sport in which the players had to find their own transportation to practice and games at the Lakeview Ice Palace on Route 8. The students were also responsible for financing their equipment and ice time. Although the Hockey Team had a losing season, the dedicated team never gave up trying.

Starting Center Keith Ziberg led the team in scoring. Also comprising the starting line were Team Captain Bill Appelt, Mark Keyser, Rich Bartek, Jim Lang and the excellent goalie Tracy Fitterer.

Lending Helping Hands

The Key Club and Keyettes kept busy this past year by helping the boosters distribute football programs, ushering senior citizens to and from the school plays, choral and band concerts and also providing them with refreshments. A dance marathon was conducted to raise money for service projects and operating expenses. Key Club won the Homecoming Float Building Contest and provided a competitive trophy for club participation in Homecoming. They cleared vandals' paint from school buildings and property, provided parties for the child welfare shelter, and also helped the Highland Presbyterian Church in their caroling and made refreshments for area nursing homes as well as ushering at open house and other school events. They provided food, clothing, and toys to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas time. The social events included a Hay Ride, Swim Party, All Night Bowling, a Christmas Party, Awards Banquet and a year-end picnic.

Reaching Out to Help

The Key Club provided service to the school and community and it provided social events for the members. Dues of one dollar and a willingness to participate in school and community service projects were met by over fifty members this year. The officers were President Ray Deidin; Vice-President Mark Eberhardt; Secretary Gary Connell; and Treasurer Ron McClure. The faculty advisor was Mr. Bob Adams.

The Key Club was founded in 1961 by the Kiwanis Clubs of West View. North Hills received its charter in the fall of 1973. In November of 1974 several girls approached Mr. Adams and asked if they could start a similar organization for women. This was the beginning of the Keyettes.

Key Club, besides working on joint service projects with the Keyettes and service projects of their own, had initiated a full social calendar with the girls.

Highest Honor Bestowed

Being inducted into the National Honor Society was the highest honor a student could achieve. This honor was bestowed upon over 180 students ranging from grades ten through twelve. National Honor Society created an enthusiasm for scholarship, a desire to render service, a promotion of leadership, and a development of character. The requirement for Sophomores was a Q. P. A. of 3.75, for Juniors 3.50, and for Seniors 3.25. Each member had to hold membership in two school organizations or in one in which they held an office. The officers were President, Leslie Pilar; Vice-President, Bill Kendrick; Secretary/Treasurer, Sandy McClelland; and Junior Representative, Angela Franco. Miss Rea acted as the faculty sponsor.

A charter, issued in 1958-1959, was given to North Hills High School and began the National Honor Society here. The National Honor Society served the students of North Hills by tutoring, ushering at school affairs, and also by conducting the two installations for new members held this year.

Resolution: Bigger and Better!

The Norhuan staff in February of 1977 resolved to make the 1978 edition the biggest and most innovative in North Hill's history. With the book containing seventy-two pages more than last year's yearbook and more thorough coverage than ever before, the staff began the preliminary planning stages. They supervised the taking of Senior portraits and spring sports candida while the Layout staff carefully designed all three hundred and four pages.

Once school began people on the staff could be seen every day after school in D-110, Mr. Patterson's room. As a deadline drew near, weekend work sessions became necessary and many students gave up their Saturday and Sunday afternoons to work on the yearbook.

At first the new staff divisions confused everyone. In addition to the Sports, Features, Faculty, Activities, Typing and Business staffs, the Layout and Literary sections were created. These two groups were involved with the entire yearbook, with Layout designing every page and Literary responsible for every printed word. But as the year wore on, the staff members grew to like the new way of dividing up the work.

In working on the Norhuan, students found they had special talents that had previously been hidden to them. It was not unusual for someone on Layout to be writing copy.

With the sponsor, Mr. Patterson, located in the Morrone building it caused some communications problems since most of the staff was usually in the Senior High. And tempers grow short as time ran out on a deadline. But with the calm, steady guidance of Editor-in-Chief—Kathy Naughton and Mr. Patterson the book was completed on time.

"Blood, sweat and tears" actually did go into each and every page. But the sense of pride each staff member felt when the book was delivered made it all worthwhile.

Aides Check Out References

In their nineteenth consecutive year of service at North Hills, the library aides were more active than ever. With the loss of one librarian, the eighteen library aides became an even more vital part of the library. Under the direction of Mrs. Persinger, they were given more responsibilities to enable the library to continue to run smoothly, such as taking attendance and reporting it to the study hall teachers. Helping with the processing of new materials, preparing catalogue cards for filing, and helping other students find materials and set up and operate equipment were other jobs they performed.

There was a social activity planned at the end of the year. Certificates of merit were presented to the outstanding aides during the annual Honors Awards Ceremony.

Let's Get Rowdie!

"Let's go North Hills! R-O-W-D-I-E, that's the way to spell Rowdie, Rowdie, let's get Rowdie, wo!" These were just a few of the chants yelled by the North Hills pep club, the Tribe. Tribe built spirit and unity among the students. Nowhere was more pride or enthusiasm shown toward North Hills than in the Tribe rooting section at the football games. Even when things were going badly, the excitement generated by this group helped to spur on the team on the field. Tribe also supported other athletic teams by organizing pep assemblies and selling game tickets. The club aided sports fans by sponsoring buses to many of the away games. This year's officers were President Ginny Viviano, Vice-President Diane Schneider and assistants Jill Kummer, Terri Wolf and Mary Ann Ruperto. Mr. Buffalino acted as the faculty sponsor.

This Group Needs a Lift!

The North Hills Ski Club consisted of approximately 350 students ranging from grades nine through twelve. The purpose behind ski club was for students to be able to ski at a reduced price. Most of the trips were made to Seven Springs and other ski resorts around the Pittsburgh area. Not only did the students experience long bus rides, but at times one of the buses would break down which would make the trips even longer. Although the trips did not always work out perfectly, the members of Ski Club had many good times.

The Sunday afternoon and Thursday trips were arranged by President Phyllis Tenley, Vice-Presidents—Lori Morgan and Nancy McCarthy, and Sponsor—Mr. Gorwick. According to the officers not only was the 1978 Ski Club the largest, but the best. A great deal of the credit for the trips should be given to Mr. Gorwick for devoting his free time to making this year's ski club the best ever!

DECISION MAKERS

Student Council became Student Government. This government included the senior officers: President, Jim Buckley; Vice-President, Rich Witt; Secretary, Karen Kiehnairz; and Treasurer, Tricia Joyce. Presiding as the junior officers were President, Rich Merkel; Vice-President, Sue Komm; Secretary, Nancy McCarthy; and Treasurer, Wendy Jensen. Mr. Buffalino was the faculty sponsor.

Student Government was composed of not only a representative from each homeroom but also any interested student.

Student Government planned the activities of the student body for the school year. It was responsible for the craziness of Senior Spirit

Week and the excitement of Homecoming night. The Senior Dinner Dance was a successful product of the club's work. As the year went along, Student Government reopened the student store known as the Trading Post. Spring really sprung when the seniors all caught the germs of Spring Fever Week. The Junior and Senior Proms organized by Student Government added a touch of romance to the year. Needy families and hospital patients also benefited through the Thanksgiving Food Drive and Christmas favors.

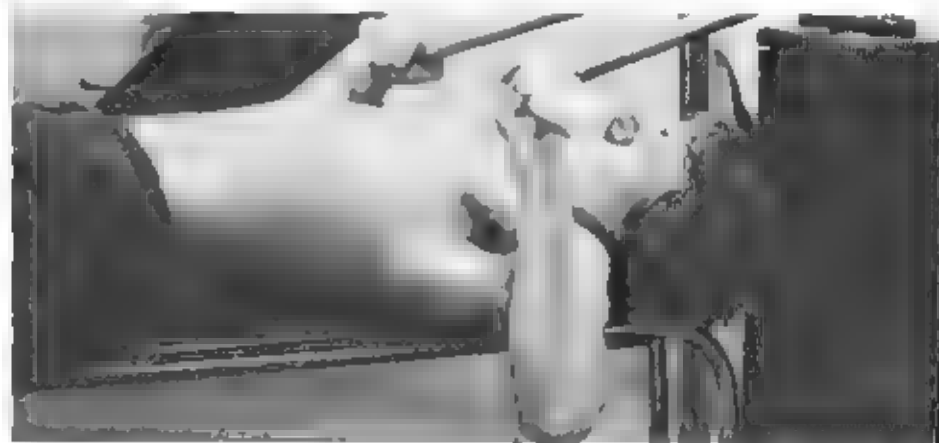

Student Government pulled the student body together making an active year for all.

PRESSING FOR TIME

Exercise, hard work, and fun were the best words to describe the North Hills Weightlifting Club. The club was comprised of a group of twenty-five boys who came and lifted weights or played basketball for a few hours every Monday night in the gym. Most of the boys in grades nine through twelve who participated were eager to improve themselves. It was also a great way for football players to keep in shape during the off season.

The coach of Weightlifting Club, Mr. Nauman, felt the club lacked the sufficient equipment and time to provide members with the necessary workout.

AUGUST 29—The first day of school for students in the North Hills district.

SEPTEMBER 2—The football team won its first game by defeating a tough Montour team. The away game was attended by many Seniors and other students as five buses took off for the hour drive.

SEPTEMBER 9—North Hills lost to Gateway in a hard fought game.

SEPTEMBER 10—The first Senior High Student Council Dance was held.

SEPTEMBER 12—The Band was invited to perform at the Steelers game when the Steelers played San Francisco on Monday night.

SEPTEMBER 16—The Indians first home game of the football season. The first pep rally was also held seventh period. It showed our team that they had our full support. The rewards were great. North Hills defeated McKeesport.

SEPTEMBER 23—The North Hills Indians defeated Shaler.

SEPTEMBER 24—The Chorus fifth annual flea market took place on this day. Early morning rain caused it to be brought indoors, but the weather didn't put a damper on sales. Almost all of the school's clubs finished the day with a profit. The Band festival was held at Martorelli Stadium in the evening.

SEPTEMBER 30—Another pep assembly was held as the team prepared to face Uniontown. North Hills emerged the victor to 4-1.

OCTOBER 1—The Boosters held a dance in the Senior High gym.

1. Judy Ingram and Jeff Noel practice holding up the wall. It is a popular pastime at NHHS. 2. Rah, rah, siss, boom, bah! A pep assembly managed by Tricia Joyce. 3. Chris Scott gets up enough energy to go to class. 4. Lori Juswiak and Tricia Joyce smile for the birdie.

activities and athletics on the hilltop.

OCTOBER 7—Although there was a pep assembly seventh period to generate spirit and enthusiasm for the game, none was needed for the match between N. A. and North Hills. The Indians destroyed their arch-rivals, the Tigers, for the first time in seven years.

OCTOBER 8—The North Hills Junior Miss Pageant was held at North Allegheny High School. Diane Bohn was chosen Junior Miss.

OCTOBER 10—This day kicked off Senior Week. Students designated this day as Inside-Out Day.

OCTOBER 11—Tuesday was set aside as Hat Day for the Seniors.

OCTOBER 12—Excitement was building for Homecoming as Clash Day arrived. The Seniors worked hard to wear green stripes with purple plaids and reds with orange.

OCTOBER 13—Do you remember Shirt Day? A bonfire was held this evening to prepare the Seniors for Homecoming.

OCTOBER 14—The day for seniors. It was Blue and Gold Day as Seniors wore their beanies and drums all day. Senior initiation ranks were kept to a minimum but Morrone Building students were frightened anyway. Seventh period the Seniors participated in the "Senior Skits" put on for the rest of the class. For the first time, North Hills had a float competition. Three clubs participated with Key Club/Keyettes as the victor. Judy Spragle received the title of Homecoming Queen. And best of all, the football team defeated North Catholic.

Juniors and Sophomores enjoy the social

OCTOBER 15—The Senior Club Homecoming Dance was extra special because it had a live group as entertainment.

OCTOBER 20—Senior Pictures finally arrived and were distributed. All through the building, students could be heard saying "That isn't me."

OCTOBER 21—North Hills lost to Central Catholic.

OCTOBER 28—The Indians beat the tough Highland football team.

OCTOBER 29—The North Hills Chorus hosted a chorus festival for five area schools.

NOVEMBER 4—The North Hills Indians lost to Fox Chapel in the last football game for the Seniors.

NOVEMBER 8—The National Honor Society inducted 7 Seniors. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

NOVEMBER 11—The Senior Dinner Dance was a special event held at the Holiday Inn near the airport. The group that performed was the fantastic Fragile.

NOVEMBER 15—The Stadium Review took place in the Senior High Auditorium as the Band performed some favorite tunes from their half-time shows.

"I Love You, Seniors"

Senior Day was that once in a lifetime experience when everyone displayed class unity by wearing clothing and beanies in the class colors of blue and gold. For the class of '78 this festive occasion fell on October 14, 1977.

It started off like any other morning. Bleary-eyed, somber students sleepily rolled off the buses, but every once in a while a cheery, bright face of a Senior could be seen. This was our day! The day we could get revenge by making underclassmen sing "I Love You Seniors" and "I'm a Little Teapot" just like we did as Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors. The halls were filled with blue and gold beanies and large yellow mums. Around every corner lurked a group of Seniors, ready to pounce upon a tiny, weak and lone underclassman.

The day was filled with excitement and it was climaxed by the Senior skits held in the auditorium seventh period. Seniors rumbled into the auditorium and anxiously waited for the curtains to open. The applause for "The Big Mac Attacks" seemed endless and blue and gold shakers swayed through the air.

The Senior Skits ended Senior Day, but we had a lot to look forward to in the evening—HOMECOMING!

800 Blue and Gold Beanies

The preparation for "Homecoming 1977" began this summer when the making of eight hundred blue and gold beanies was the major concern of several members of Student Council. This huge task took the better part of five months before the beanies reached the heads of the Seniors on October 14th. Mums were the next consideration, for most of the Senior girls purchased a flower as a token from this day. Another project to be undertaken was the planning and construction of floats to be entered in competition on Homecoming night. Hours upon hours were spent in mental and manual labor to create beautiful, operable floats to represent all the efforts. Also, thirty-six clubs nominated candidates for Homecoming Queen. Each candidate paraded on the field. Posters decorated the halls and cars which were adorned with streamers and paper flowers added to the festivities of the day.

Homecoming '77

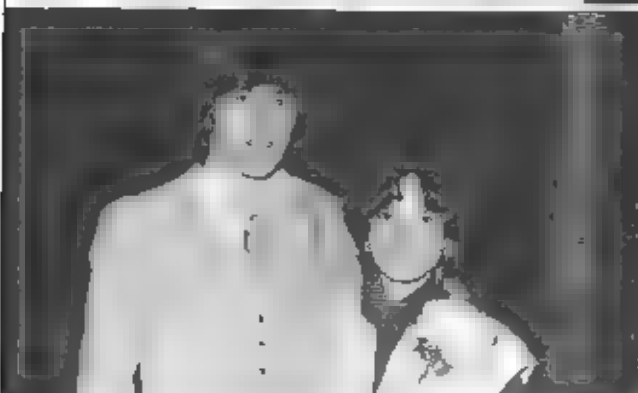

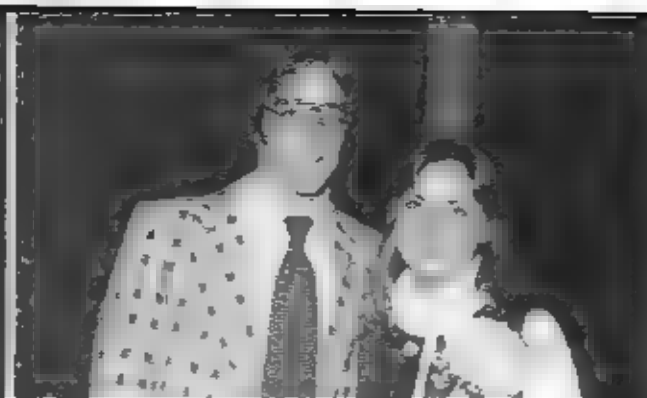

The contest was about to begin, and the enthusiasm peaked once more to cheer our North Hills' Indians on to a rousing, Homecoming victory over North Catholic. The football game was no less than spectacular—each team showing outstanding ability, agility, and speed. The Tribe, a mass of blue and gold-bearded Seniors, loudly joined the cheerleaders to offer encouragement at each threshold toward victory. With this loyal support, the mighty Indians, by the end of the first half, were on their way to another win.

The half-time entertainment proved to be the "Greatest Show On Earth" as far as the spectators were concerned. On this special occasion the Band showed their expertise as they presented their favorite selections to the fans for approval. "I Write The Songs" and the theme from "Shaft" were two of the songs chosen by the Senior members of the Band for the Homecoming celebration. However, no one will ever forget the unique production of the theme from "Star Wars," when in total darkness the Band marched in the illumination of their mounted headlights into a star formation at the end. This special number, dedicated to the Senior Class highlighted the evening's entertainment.

Returning to the football game, the team with renewed spirit exploded with more touchdowns and field goals. All points totaled, our Indians triumphed over North Catholic with a final score of 28-7—a fitting close to a perfect day.

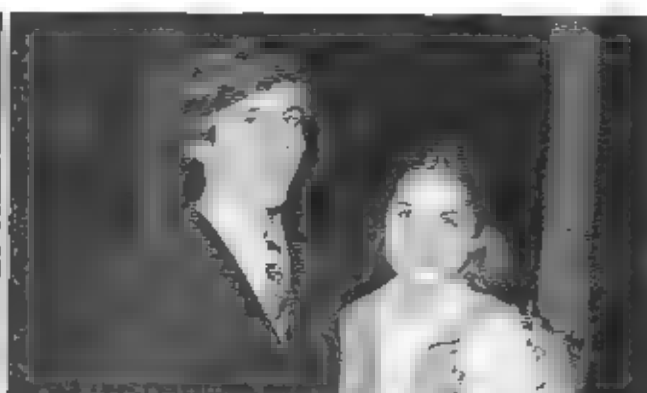

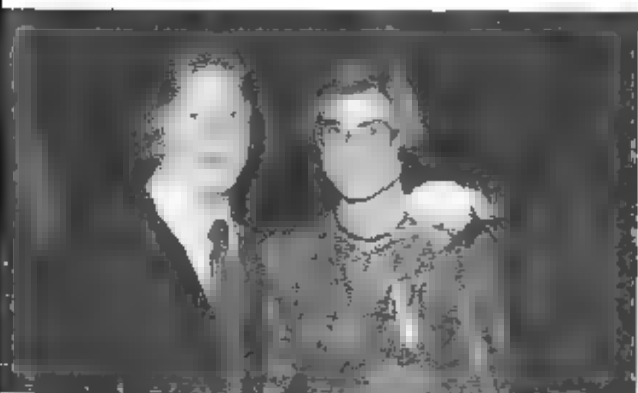

The festivities over, the student-decorated, flowered, and painted cars roared into the night with victorious honks and celebrative toots, marking the end of Homecoming '77.

Girls and their "legs" perform the Burlesque Skit.

The date was October 14, 1977—a day not soon forgotten by the Senior Class at North Hills Homecoming.

The festivities began at Martorelli Stadium as twilight descended upon the field. Four beautiful, bright colored floats entered by Key Club/Keyettes, the Band, the Chorus and the Student Council drifted into view. Key Club was later awarded first place in competition for "Best Float of '77" with the theme "Wish Upon A Star".

Before this scene the Homecoming Queen was about to be crowned. The thirty-six candidates filed onto the field smiling confidently but secretly awaiting the outcome. This year's princesses were Student Council's choice of Tricia Joyce and Linda Gerthoffer, nominated by the Football Team. Then the Homecoming Queen of 1977 was crowned; she was Judy Spragale, nominated by Boy's Cross Country. The deafening applause accompanied the girls as they made their traditional ride before the spectators in the Homecoming float provided by the Student Council committee.

Drama Club Stages Neil Simon's Smash

Diane Bohn as Rose Benjamin sits in what is left of her demolished house.

Joe Benjamin has endured much suffering. Glen Guadagnino portrays him as bloody and sick.

On November 17, 18 and 19 the North Hills Drama Club presented Neil Simon's new comedy "God's Favorite". The main character, Joe Benjamin, played by Glen Guadagnino, represented a modern day Job. He had been selected by God to show the Devil that even through extreme suffering, one man would still not renounce Him.

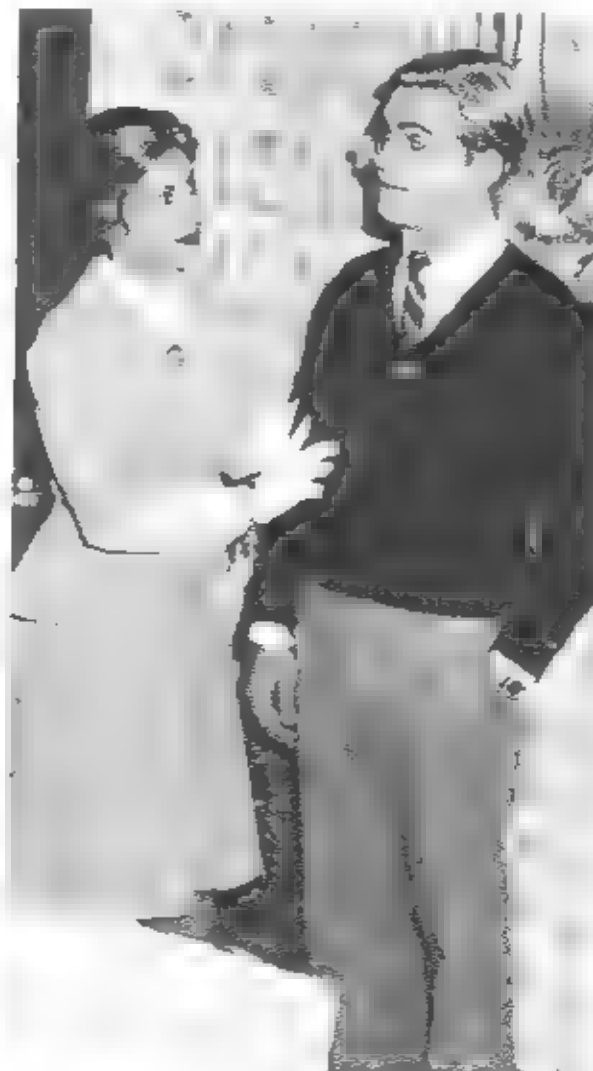

God's human messenger to Joe, Sidney Lipton, was played by Chan Benson. The conversations between Joe and Sidney were a great source of amusement to the audience.

In the final act of the play, Joe was rewarded for his unshakable faith when his son David, played by Tim Sutherland, becomes a believer.

In addition to the actors, other students worked on the various committees such as Set Construction, Costumes, Make-up and Publicity to help make the play a success.

Invisible Rabbit.

In the Spring of 1977 the North Hills Drama Club under the direction of Mr. Glenn Richey and Mrs. Linda Brown presented a play by Mary Chase entitled "Harvey."

Bob Guido played Elwood P. Dowd, a man whose best friend is a Pooka, a ghost in animal form. Harvey, the Pooka, was indeed a ghost. He was a six foot tall invisible rabbit.

Throughout the play Elwood attempted to convince everyone that Harvey was real. While his sister Veta Louise, played by Diane Kamaras, tried to get him committed into an insane asylum, she accidentally got herself committed. Later on when things got lightened out, Elwood's family learned to accept Harvey. They became good friends and at the end of the play, in front of Elwood's doctor, Harvey comes walking in the room and they laughantly leave together.

The "Flying Finn" Fits Right In.

Juha H. Taipale came to North Hills from Central Finland, the Land of a Thousand Lakes. Juha began attending North Hills in August of 1977, and won the hearts of all students at the Chorus Christmas Concert, when he and Eric Holmberg sang "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" in the Finnish language.

Juha lived with the Holmberg family, and became a good friend and choir pal of Eric, a junior. Back in Finland, Juha's real father was a Lutheran minister and his mother was a teacher. He was surrounded by three sisters, Johanna, Minna and Sanna.

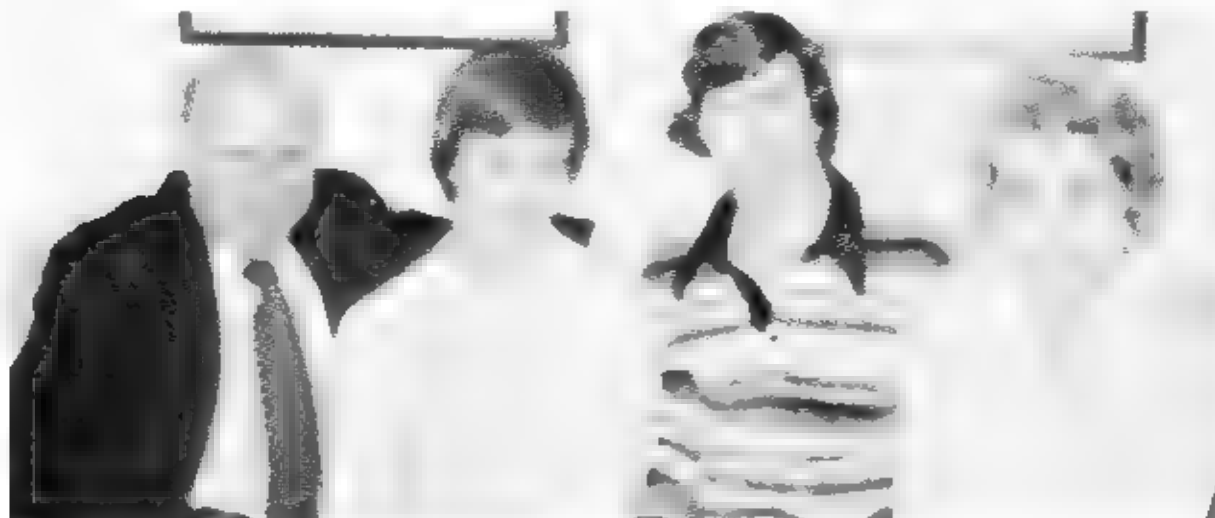

"North Hills offered a lot more activities," stated Juha when he compared North Hills to his previous school in Finland. He took advantage of this opportunity when he became a member of the Volleyball team, the Choir, and the Soccer team. He enjoyed playing the piano, music, and either watching or participating in all sports.

When Juha left Finland, he did not leave everything behind. The heavy snow which hit Pittsburgh in January, 1978 made Juha feel right at home, and he enjoyed it. The "Flying Finn" claimed, "I think they sent it just for me."

After Months of Practice the Pleasure of Applause

This year the music department maintained its fine reputation as one of the best in the area. There was a wide variety of concerts and performances to satisfy any type of music lover.

The Stage Band, which had won awards for its outstanding sound, held two assemblies and many concerts for the fans of popular and rock music. Their fine rendition of "Rocky" almost brought down the house at every show.

Symphony Band had its first concert on a snowy and cold December evening. Marches like the "Nobles of the Mystic," classical songs such as the "First Suite for Band" and Christmas tunes like the encore "Holiday for Bells" were popular numbers on the program. The February 18 concert, included on the repertoire several international selections like the "La Fiesta Mexicana," and the spring show honored five members of the Pittsburgh Symphony who gave solos. At the program the special guest conductor was Pittsburgh's own Henry Mancini.

The chorus provided excellent songs for vocal music fans. They kicked off the year at a Chorus Festival on October 29th when North Hills acted as host for five other area schools. For the Annual Candlelight Christmas Concert, director Frank Cummings selected a new arrangement of Christmas tunes by Jimmy Owens and Otis Skillings entitled the "Christmas Chorus Festival." In the spring, the Chorus also featured many numbers of Spanish origin in preparation for the Chorus' trip to Mexico in June.

There were many other small ensembles that also performed. At North Hills there certainly was something for everyone in the music field.

The Junior Prom was a night of flowers, formal dress, and fancy cars. Held on April 30, in Oakland, the prom attracted couples ready to enjoy a night on the town. The evening was a perfect example of spring; clear and mild, with stars studying the sky. Webster Hall had a large ballroom where everyone could dance to the music of Rancely Kat, the group that was hired for the evening. Dinner was served at 7:30 and the tables were decorated in the class colors of blue and gold. Afterwards, some people took scenic routes that went to the top of Mt. Washington and a few stopped at the observation decks or rode the incline. The festivities were continued as groups met in homes for late snacks. Many picnicked the next day. The whole event was an exciting evening never to be forgotten.

The biggest, greatest and most anticipated event during our school years, next to graduation, was the Senior Prom. Not being able to tolerate the anxiousness that students feel while waiting for the arrival of this great day, the underclassmen began creating other dances, like the Sophomore Banquet and the Freshman Skating Party. Try as they might, they still could not capture the same excitement that the Senior Prom stimulated.

This memorable occasion took place on the evening of May 15, 1978 at the William Penn Hotel. The name of the location itself lent to the grandeur of this special dance. The William Penn Hotel, with its stately ballroom, was the perfect place for the prom.

The evening was great. The band played both fast and slow music to suit everyone's tastes. The food was good and the room sparkled as each couple gazed dreamily into one another's eyes. By the time the prom had finally come to an end, each person had accumulated many wonderful memories which he or she would cherish all their lives.

THE END OF THE BEGINNING

Graduation was the culmination of twelve years of academic work. For many it also represented extra hours invested in student activities. It was a beginning and an end. The diplomas ended the relatively casual years of adolescence when learning about ourselves and those around us was of prime importance. Now we have the abilities necessary for what the future might bring, and we begin a new life as adults ready to meet tomorrow with the skills we learned yesterday.

INDIANS BETTER PREDICTED SEASON

The North Hills Indians did not have much to look forward to when the year began, with inexperienced Seniors and untried Juniors returning, no one knew what to expect. The papers predicted a seventh place finish in the conference, and the future did not look bright. Led by captains Rich Dalrymple, Bill Leone, Mike Leon, and Mark Mitchell along with a dedicated coaching staff, the team rose to the challenge to finish third in the West Penn Conference behind undefeated Fox Chapel and Gateway.

The team was no longer a group of individuals, but through hard work and patience on the part of the coaches, it grew to be a family. This showed on the field as the team stayed together through thick and thin. A victory over North Allegheny by a score of 10-0 was the first one in eight years. It happened in front of a huge home crowd and was the high point of the season. Another thrill was the Homecoming victory over North Catholic, 28-7, to complete the festivities of the whole day. A crushing away victory at Shaler brought the Northern Area trophy to North Hills for the first time since its beginning.

Slashing runs by Bill Munsch and Bill Leone, along with power provided by Bill Fadok, were responsible for the offense chewing up yardage at times almost at will. The offensive line was small, but together as a unit used its quickness and technique to defeat larger opponents. Pinpoint passing by Rich Dalrymple and Dan O'Hara to surehanded receivers Bob Dum and Pete Thomas, kept defenses from just trying to stop the run.

The defense was rated one of the best in the WPIAL. All-Conference Safety Dan O'Hara, along with Bill Leone and Andy Kimball made crunching tackles on runs as well as covering receivers on the pass. The defensive line of Pete Thomas, Dan Daugherty, Mike Leon, Bill Stanko and Mark Mitchell created havoc in opponents backfields as they spearheaded an uncontrollable surge to get the ball. Linebackers Bill Fadok, Ron Rossi, and Greg Peaslee rampaged around the field to corral any loose ball carriers.

The kicking game led by Ron Bauer whose accuracy never faltered as he did not miss an extra point the whole year. Mark Mitchell punted for a 40-yard average and constantly kicked the Indians out of trouble and was also adept at kicking the ball out of bounds inside the opponent's 10-yard line.

The season, on a whole, was a success. Even though the game uniforms have been laid to rest for another year, the stories they hold will live on forever.

The North Hills Girls' Swim Team had an undefeated season that concluded with a big win over arch-rival North Allegheny. This made the girls Section One Champions and enabled them to advance to the W. P. I. A. L. series swimoffs. In the quarter finals, North Hills swamped Plum by a score of 113-59, and advanced to semi-finals. There they bowed to a tough Norwin team by the score of 83-39. The Indian swimmers ended their season with a respectable third place standing.

The swimmers who qualified for the W. P. I. A. L. individual meet were Nancy Henry, Carolyn Ihrig, Sue Elliot, Michelle Larson, Eileen McDonough, Holly Harding, Ann Malush, Barb Tenley and Karen Wellman. The 4x100 freestyle relay of Henry, Ihrig, Elliot, and Harding brought home the first place trophy. Other places were: Henry, 2nd—100 fly, 7th—100 backstroke; Ihrig, 12th—200 I. Dan Kerr launches a shot as John Probert looks on.

The Boys' Soccer Team ended its season with a 9-8-1 record. Led by Jerry Werner, the high scorer with eleven goals, and Dan Kerr's good defensive play, the Indians were tied for second place in their section. Jeff Sterritt was chosen by his teammates for the second year in a row as the Most Valuable Player.

One of the highlights of the year was an overtime tie with Springdale in which the Indians scored two goals in the last 26 seconds of the game. A 2-1 victory over WPIAL finalist Shaler was probably the greatest victory of the year as the Indians totally dominated the game. With only four starters graduating, the chances for a section title in 1979 look promising.

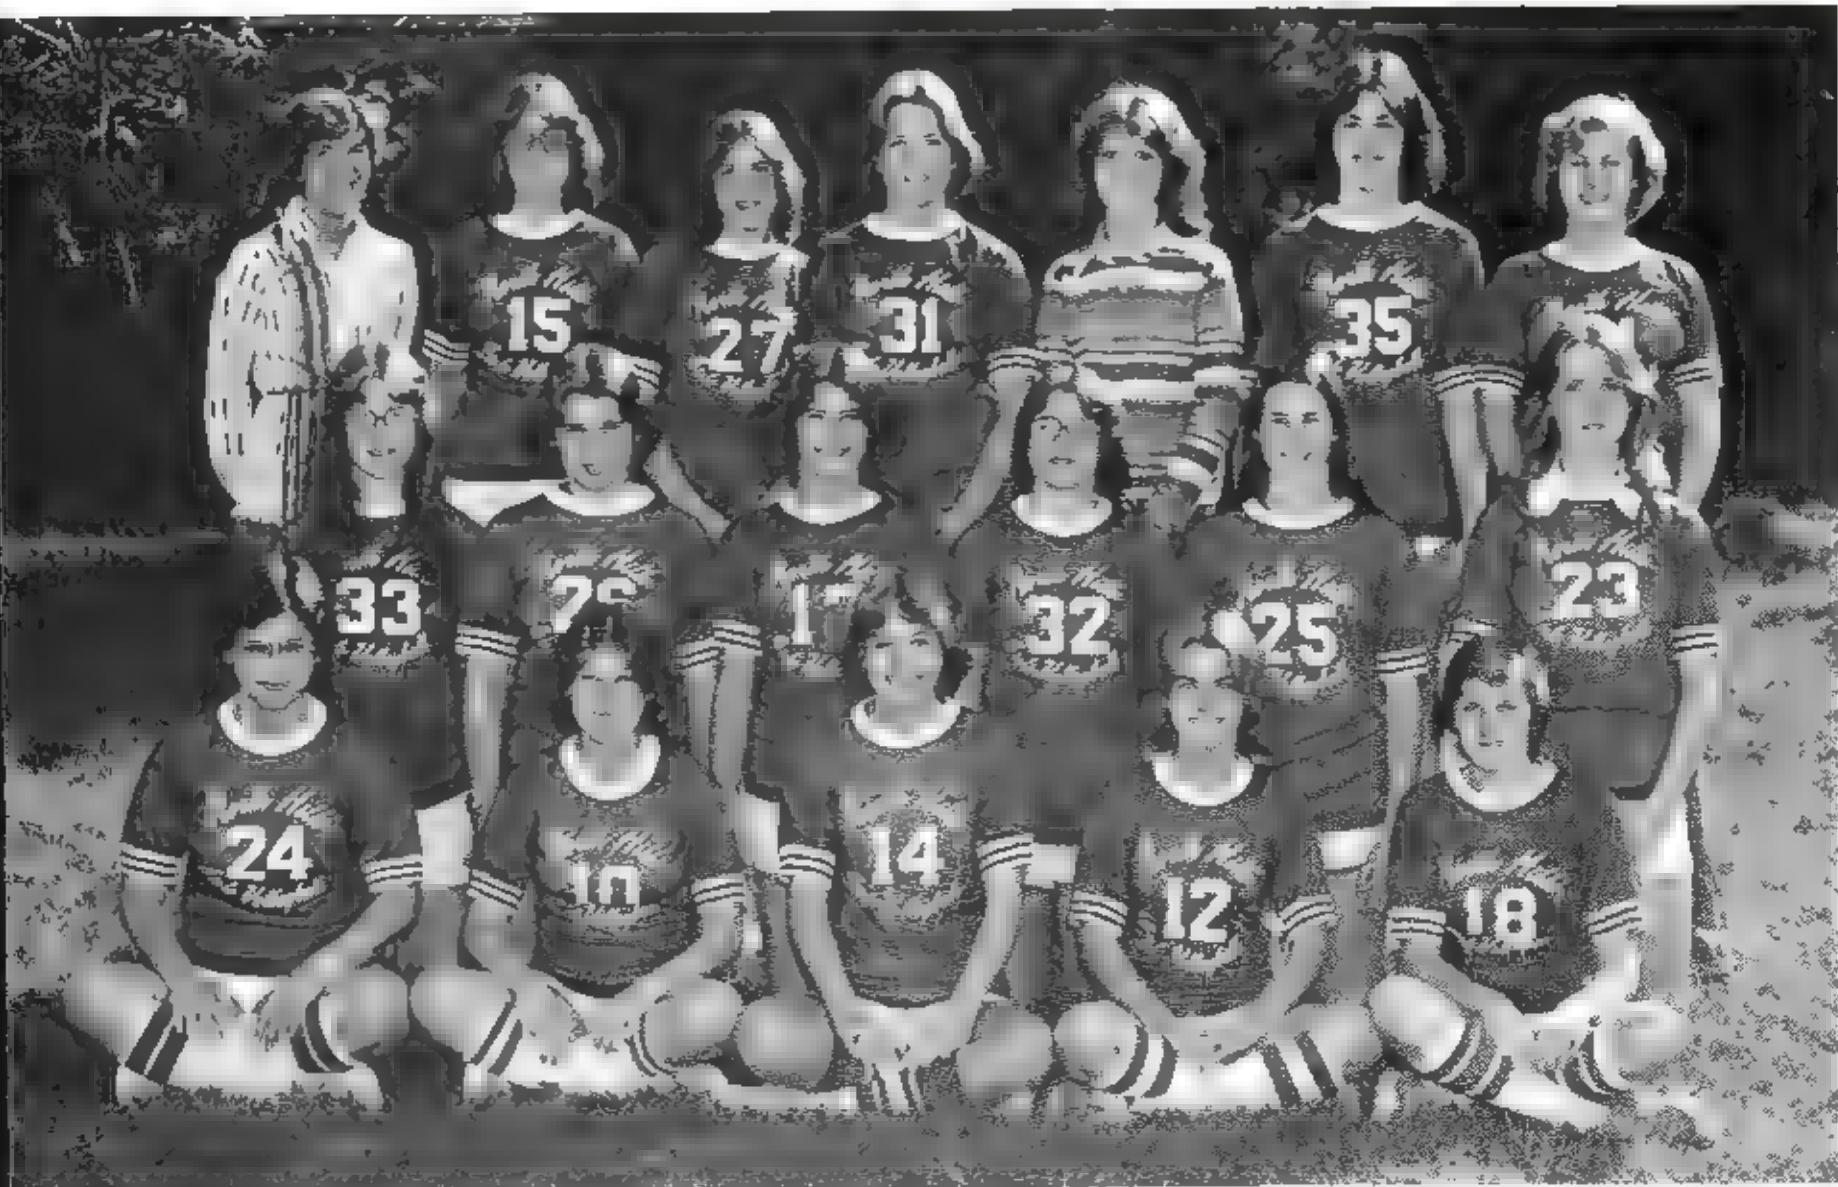

Ready . . . Set . . . Spike!

The 1978 Girls' Volleyball Team, coached by Miss Debbie Deuser, was composed of tough competitors. The first match of the season was against an unsuspecting Knoch team, the 1977 Section Champs. To the surprise of Knoch the Indians were easily able to defeat the experienced team.

With Carolyn Ericson's smashing serves and Joan Gloeckler's expertise in spikes, not to mention the other talented players, the Indians continued their aggressive play. Many black and blue knees were acquired as well as points saved by the duo of Elaine Hartzell and Linda Amy. The 4-8 record was not indicative of the team's great efforts.

Men In Shorts

The Boys' Tennis team practiced their swing into a great season. The boys proved their skill with an impressive record of 14-4. Because of their quick reflexes and sharp eyes they received a chance to compete with Shaler and NA for the section title. The players themselves were exceptionally talented, with Greg Peaslee and Chris Kopehak remaining undefeated in doubles play throughout the season. Also impressive were Barb Hailstone and Greg Peaslee in mixed doubles, a new facet of competition. Hailstone and Peaslee were able to advance to state competition. The tennis team this year did a remarkable job and they should be commended for their performance.

TRADITION IS WINNING

In the history of North Hills Baseball, winning was an often used adjective to describe how the team fared on the season. The tradition was again upheld as the team ace, Mark Mitchell, pitched to many hard fought victories. This baseman Pete Thomas smashed numerous hits to drive in crucial runs while outstanding overall defensive play kept the Indians in a race with Shaler for the section 9 title throughout the season. The tradition looked to be upheld as a fine corps of younger players are advancing through the ranks.

Drive for Victory

The Boys' Golf Team continued its winning tradition by again capturing the Section VII Title with a record of 9-1. The only loss of the season was delivered by Hampton in a hard fought match. Three year letter winner Ed Crankovic led the team with the lowest average score of 80. The team advanced to the play-offs and suffered a tough defeat to Penn Hills. Seniors Jim Winters and Ed Crankovic qualified for regional competition and Winters proceeded on to the WPIAL finals where he was defeated. Mr. Guadagnino coached the team whose home course was Highland Country Club.

"FORE"

The North Hills Girls' Golf team underwent major changes throughout the 77-78 season. Originally a spring sport, Girls' golf was moved to a fall schedule. Thus the girls played for two consecutive seasons. The team, which formerly was coached by Mr. Hare, was combined with the boys coached by Mr. Guadagnino.

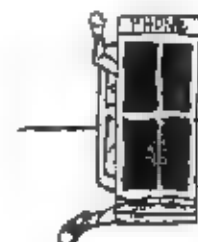

The girls were easily able to adjust to the changes and broke even on the season. Nancy Lupone experienced a successful season and compiled a tremendous personal record of nine wins and two losses. Two of the team members, Nancy Lupone and Pam Kalyvas, were invited to compete in the W. P. I. A. L. individual championships. Both golfers delivered first-rate performances.

Varsity Netters Compile 8-3 Season

The girls' Tennis Team coached by Mr. Steve Zaletski, had a successful season despite setbacks and injuries.

The team was especially strong and compiled an 8-3 record for the year. In section competition the girls compiled an impressive 5-1 record.

The North Hills girls advanced to the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League semifinals with fine performances by all team members.

The unbeatable doubles team of Tina Cherpes and Leslie Stenger was unable to advance any further in the W. P. I. A. L. competition because of an unfortunate automobile accident.

The North Hills Gymnastic team enjoyed a very successful season this year. The season culminated in an exciting battle for the section championship against archrival North Allegheny. The only two losses North Hills suffered were outside of the section and both were by less than a point.

This season's outstanding team members were Natalie Beck and Karen Heck who are classified as advanced gymnasts, Linda Karluck, Valerie Rau, and Pam Roman who are classified as Intermediate gymnasts.

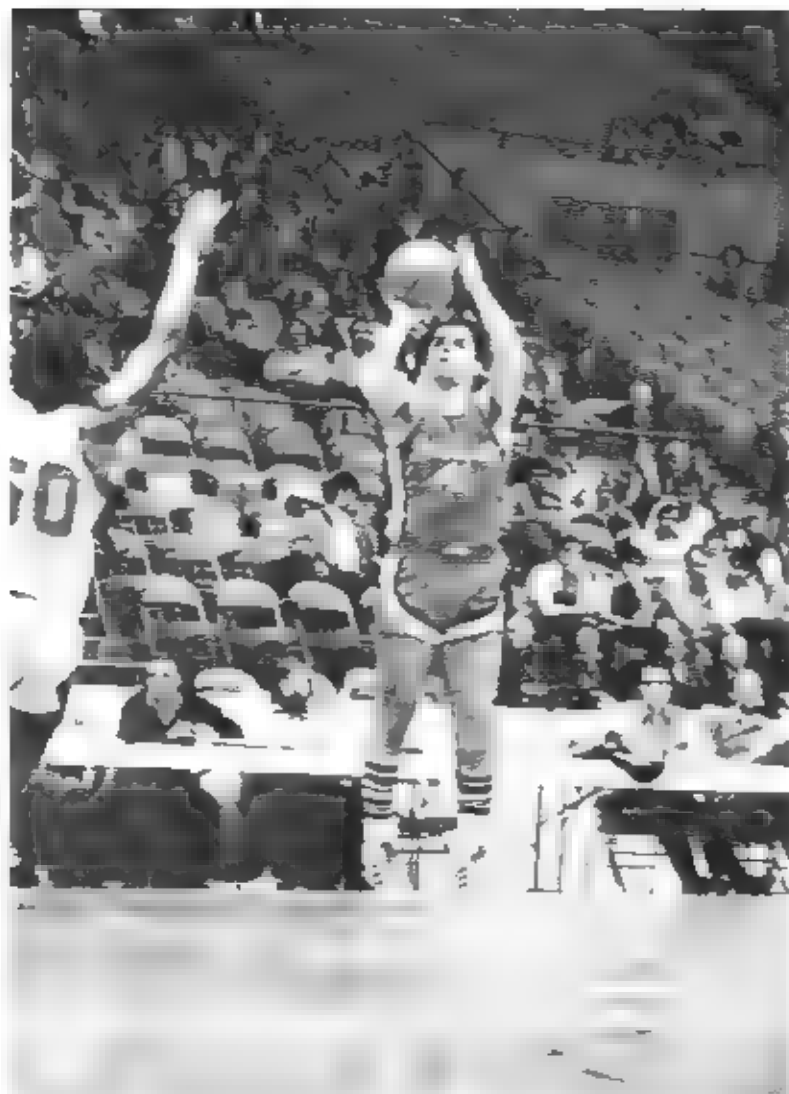

Qualifying for district competition were Linda Karluck who qualified on the uneven parallel bars, and the trio of Karen Heck, Natalie Beck, and Valerie Rau, who qualified for their excellence in all four events.

1. Natalie Beck concentrating on her next difficult move on the uneven parallel bars. 2. Natalie Beck incorporates graceful ballet into her floor routine. 3. The Shooting Gallery

Last season was nothing to brag about for the North Hills Indians as they struggled to a 6-6 section record. Many fans wondered why so many underclassmen were playing without any apparent results. These results became obvious when the 77-78 season began, and the Press along with many local area fans picked North Hills as the team to beat in Section 7.

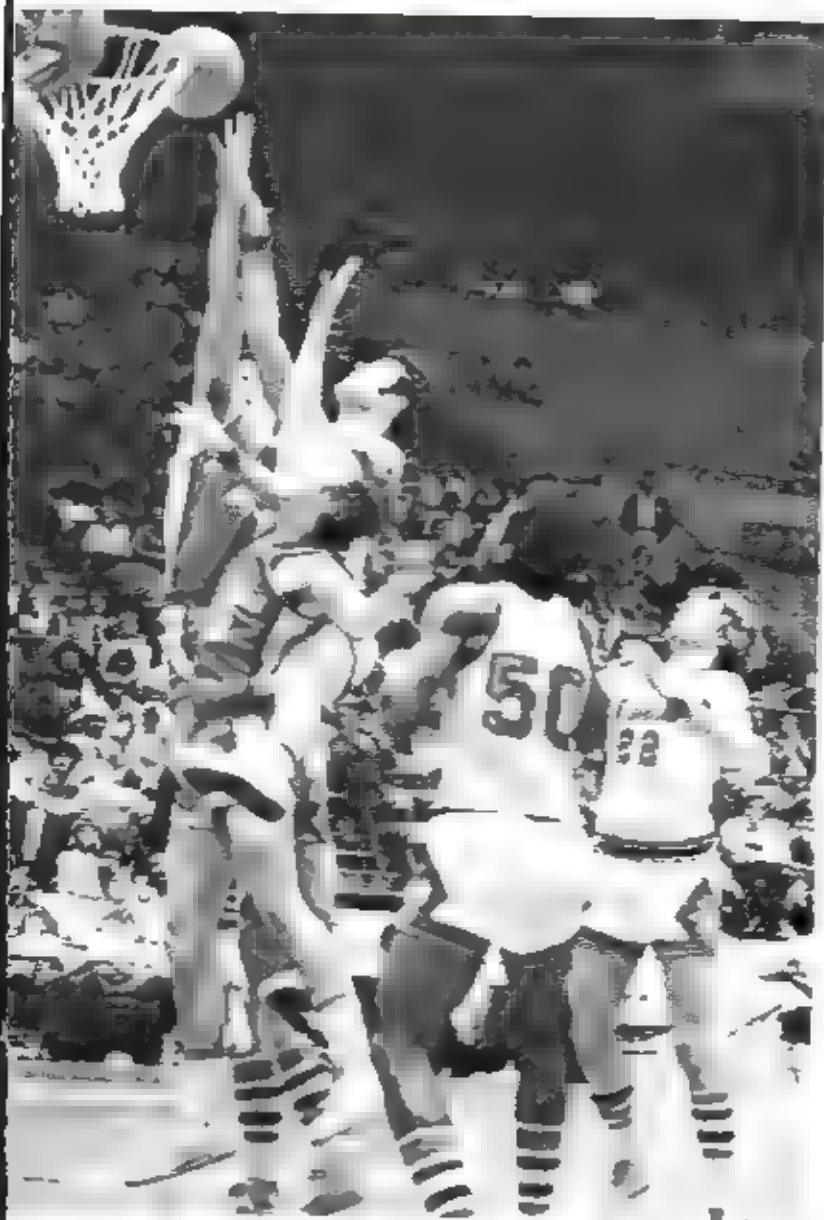

The season got off to a mediocre start as the Indians lost to Northgate, beat Keystone, were defeated by Schenley and then triumphed over the mighty Penn Hills team. But there was nothing mediocre about the rest of the year. The North Hills team then ran off seven straight section victories, nine overall, until N. A. ended the string with a titanic struggle. But the next seven games brought six victories, the team losing by only one point at the hands of the Fox Chapel Foxes. The stage was set for the last regular season game at North Allegheny where a win would have brought the section title to N. H. The over 1000 Indians fans in attendance followed Coach Maloney's suggestion and started yelling at the end of the J. V. game "We want the Indians." The enthusiasm of all of the fans affected the players and although the Tigers won, North Hills ended up in a three way tie for the Section Title. The Indians then had to defeat Valley and N. A. in the tie breakers to go on to the playoffs as a first place team. North Hills went on the warpath and defeated both teams on neutral courts, and captured the Section 7 Title with Valley taking second place.

In the opening round of the playoffs, North Hills blew the Mount Lebanon Lebos off the court in the second half and went on to victory. The five-hundred Indian fans who got an early dismissal to attend the game at Charters Valley High School went wild as the team made its way to the WPIAL quarter finals.

"Civic Arena here we come, Doo, Dah, Doo, Dah," was heard all through the school before the big game on February 23, against Section 3 winner New Castle. At half time the Indians held a 42-29 lead over the Hurricanes, with a 67% shooting average, but New Castle with an altered game plan overtook the Indians and squeaked out a 61-59 decision.

New Castle's loss in the semi-finals, to Belle Vernon ended North Hills hopes of going to the state playoffs.

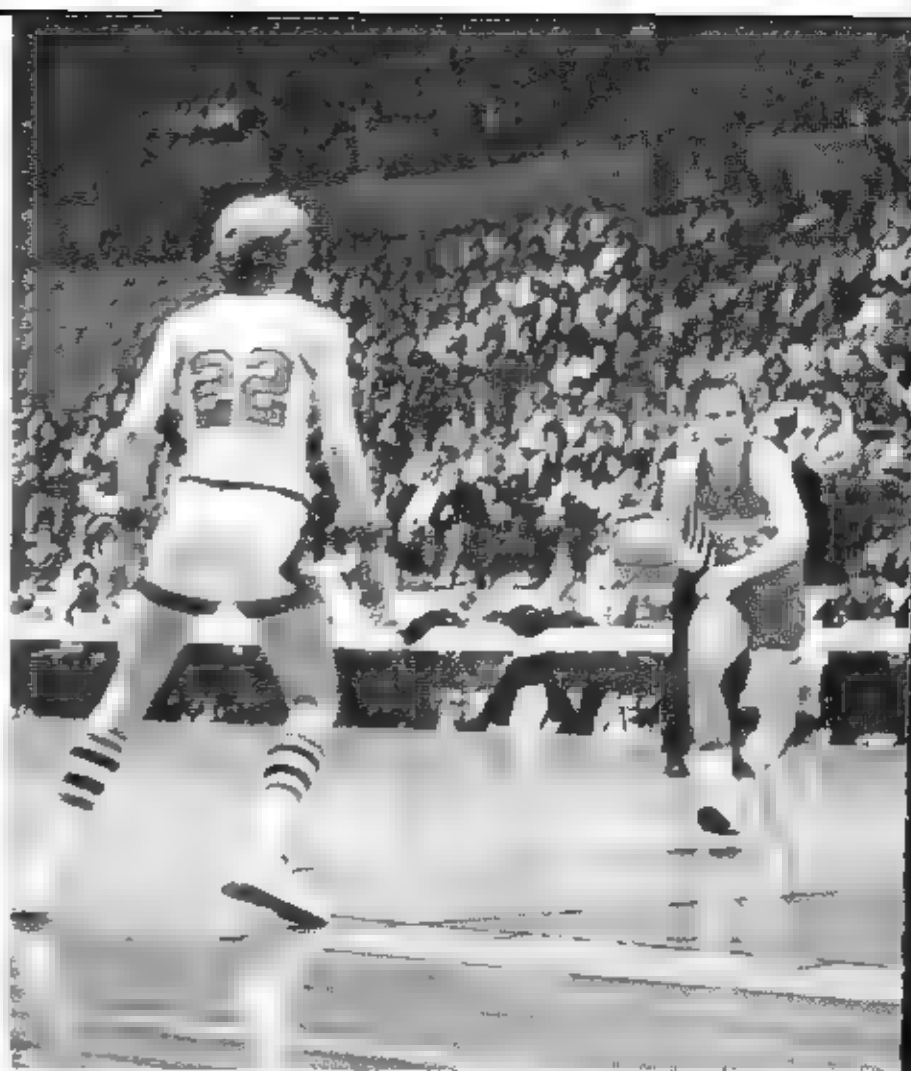

1. Pistol Pete Thomas fires up a shot yet as the New Castle Hurricanes in the quarter finals of the WPIAL playoffs. 2. Senior Ed Crankovic goes up against a host of Shaler Area players for another two points. 3. Mark Mitchell and Ed Crankovic go up in heavy traffic. 4. Displaying a soft touch, Senior Ron Roy takes another point for the Indians. 5. Oscar Rau unleashes a long range shot as the defender looks on with out hope.

The Good Guys Wear Warpaint

One of the reasons for such a successful season was the great ability possessed by the individual players. Senior Ed Crankovic led the team in scoring in all three of his years as a varsity player. He set the school record for total points in the middle of his senior year. Ed averaged many assists per game, as often teams designed their defense to stop him from scoring. He was also among the leaders in the rebound category.

Another three year letterman was Senior Pete Thomas. Big and strong Pete was heard from the entire game. If he was not under the boards, he was out front where he possessed a deadly shot. Mark Mitchell, Ron Rogg, and Dave Burns gathered in the rebounds with such intensity that it made up for their height difference as they often guarded taller opponents. Guards Jeff Kruhm and Oscar Rau shot mostly from the outside. The odds are good for a fine basketball season next year as Coach Maloney has never failed to produce an exciting team.

1 Steady Eddie charges toward the hoop, defying all defenders. 2 Seizers Pat Thomas and Mark Michel rush to the scene in an effort to stop the opponent from getting any closer to the basket. 3 But Kogg says that as soon as the score counts higher and higher. 4

Dave Burr is leaps in an effort to give the fighting lycans possession of the treasured leather sphere.

"RED PRIDE"

1978 will long be remembered as "The year of the turn-around in Girl's Basketball." New and younger faces dotted the court of the revamped team. The only two Seniors who returned for action were Margie Hayden and Bernie Hoffman. The team started the year under a new coaching staff with Mr. Tom Welch as head coach and Mr. Dennis Papalia assisting him. New intricate plays and vigorous conditioning resulted in a well disciplined, hard-working team. By mid-season the girls were battling for a play-off spot and were playing even with perennial power North Catholic. The team which rose quickly into the contending circles will undoubtedly be a team to fear in the future.

The Girls' Cross Country Team, coached by John Wilkie, was one of the most feared dual meet teams in Western Pennsylvania. After an opening loss, the lady Indians went on a rampage, winning twelve consecutive meets, usually through total domination. It was the rare opposing team that could break up the front running pack of Cindy Zielinski, Julie Crossman, Sue Latshaw, and Donna Dunic. Karen Hoppe, Cindy Misencik, Julie Flink and Angela Franco also proved to be tough opposition for area teams.

Spirits High

The boys' volleyball team revealed the character and competitive spirit of a champion.

The season, long and tough gave uncountable experience as the team rode to a 2-18 record. Bumpers Rich McKenna and Kurt Best have the experience in varsity competition vital to a competitive squad. Outstanding spikes by John Weinzettle, due to excellent sets by Rich Leonard, have revealed a bright spot for hope for the future.

The winningest season ever in N. H. history with a 9-1 dual meet record was the calling card of the Boys' Track Team. Crushing victories and records being set were a common occurrence. Jeff Noel and Dan Daugherty led the way taking turns setting a new school record in the javelin. Paul Mueller and Bill Munsch often swept the 120 high hurdles while Rich Dalrymple competed in the 330 intermediate hurdles. John Marks was undefeated in the 880 while Roger Kram and Ron Dunie dominated the distance events. Injuries led to the only loss of the season to NA but many members of the team went to state competition. John Marks and the mile relay team of Rich Dalrymple, Jim Hackworth, and Mark Hardgrove had outstanding performances.

The sun has not begun to shine, as a larger number of underclassmen have yet to reach their peak leaving many eyes looking to the future.

GIRLS' TRACK AND FIELD SET NEW RECORDS

The Mile Relay team of Ihrig, Terjak, Christian, and Mitchell, astounded officials and spectators by setting a new record. The girls were the first relay team in the state to break the four minute mile relay barrier. The relay team went on to capture second place in final competition.

Many school records were set by the 1978 squad. Setting records in running events were: Sandi Angevine, two-mile; Karen Hoppe, mile; Carolyn Ihrig, 440; Lynn Kelso, 110 hurdles; Cindy Zulinski, 880. Records in field events were set by Julie Colwell, high jump; Lynn Kelso, long jump and triple jump; Pam Kinnen, discus; Sue Lewis, shot; Becky Yurek, javelin.

... IN A SHOW OF STRENGTH AND SPEED

The Girls' Track Team had their best season ever compiling a record of 6-2. This was a big improvement over past years and was due, in part, to the change in the coaching system. Both the girls and boys were coached by the same staff and in some cases practiced together.

The girls proved their worth by taking first place in the Mars Invitational.

The coaches, Mr. McCurry, Mr. Wilkie, and Mr. Leasure determined the most valuable players. Carolyn Ihrig was chosen as most valuable player in track, and Lynn Kelso was most valuable in field.

Though the girls worked hard and competed in weather ranging from sweltering heat to numbing blizzards, they will all agree that the pains and aches were worth the rewards of a fine season.

Swimmers Glide Past Opposition

The Boy's Swim Team splashed its way to many victories this season. Coached by Mr. Richard Zeak and Jack Hardman and led by captains Dave Bartlett and Don Mueller, the Indians knocked out many of their opponents, such as the highly rated Churchill team.

During their long season which started with practices in October and ended in February, the boys swam and dived in eleven separate events. They practiced every morning before school from 6:30 AM to 7:30 AM and after school from 2:30 PM to 5:30 PM. Outstanding swimmers on the team were John Quinn, Brian Morris, Mike Polak, Dave Bartlett, Don Mueller, Keith Jarvis and Jeff Gustavson. Managers Jan Heintz and Kari Phelan kept the scores and did the announcing at the meets.

Wrestlers get hold on a winning season.

1. Bob Wisniewski attempts an escape during the third period of a first round match in the West Penn Conference eliminations. 2. Six points can be added to the score as Tim Phelan pins his opponent in the first period. 3. Bill Henry controls his foe from Shaler Area. 4. Dale Marks, wrestling at 167 pounds, has this match in the bag. 5. Row 1: Tim Islay, Bob Wisniewski, Bill Henry, Joe Hoffman, Rick Diemert, Mark Taylor; Row 2: Todd Sturman, Scott Faller, Tim Phelan, Mark Widen, Vince Donatelli, Dave Faller and Coach Roy Philips. 6. Scott Faller strides off after a grueling victory and is proclaimed the West Penn Conference champion. 7. Todd Sturman is in a bind as his adversary has the upper hand at the moment.

As the Northian goes to press, the Red Rage holds a 7-1 record with several matches coming up in February. Under the coaching of Mr. Philips, Dave Faller—heavyweight, Dale Marks—167 lbs., Rick Diemert—155 lbs., Tim Phelan—132 lbs., Scott Faller—112 lbs., contribute their wrestling skills to the team's third place spot in the West Penn Conference, and a sixth place position in the California Tournament. By their outstanding record, it is evident that their team is striving for better student recognition.

Grapplers pin down victories

1. Bob Wisniewski exerts his maximum effort to avoid being pinned. 2. Scott Faller prepares to slam his opponent to the mat for further annihilation. 3. Mark Taylor rushes to the center of the mat as the action is about to begin.

Batting, Fielding, Running

The Girl's Softball team was a hard team to beat. The team compiled a record of ten wins—five losses, and never lost by more than two runs. With the help from offensive leaders, Margie Hayden and Linda Amy, the 77-78 season proved to be one full of excitement, action, desire to win, and rain.

In their practices on muddy fields—batting, fielding, running fast and hitting harder, the girls displayed great endurance and a competitive spirit. But despite hard practices, aches, pains, sweat, and even defeat, there still remained the determination to succeed. The result—another fine season for girls softball.

Catcher Linda Amy gives her pitcher a perfect target.

5. Excitement builds as Coach Papalia gives final, game winning instructions.

The 1977 Boys Cross Country Team under the coaching of John Wilkie, proved to be one of the dominant forces in the Tri-State area. In addition to a regular season record of 9-2, including 8 consecutive shut-out victories, the team was impressive in Championship and Invitational competition. Led by Ron Dunic, who qualified for the State Championship at Penn State, the boys were always at or near the top in their major races, often featuring teams from several states. The team was also named to the National Cross Country Honor Roll.

JUNIORS

Class of 1979

The Junior class began this year by escaping to the halls of maturity, the Senior High building.

But as we looked expectantly ahead to the future, we also looked fondly at the memories of the past.

It seemed long ago that we left behind the trials and excitement of Junior High. Selling candy for prizes, faculty-student games, and after school dances no longer satisfied us. Even the grades of nine and ten seemed distant! But we still recalled the feeling of magic from the first skating party, receiving our I.D. cards and finally ordering our class rings, the symbols of our spirit. And of this was important, but the highlight was our first formal, the Senior Home Banquet.

As January, we were suddenly awakened to the importance of grades, class ranks and college catalogs showing us that grades were more than just letters. However, an assortment of activities made classes a little more bearable. Because we were sixteen, Driver's Education was one of the most enjoyable courses. It seemed the future Junior class was caught up in the confusion of permits, insurance rates and finally the prized Driver's license.

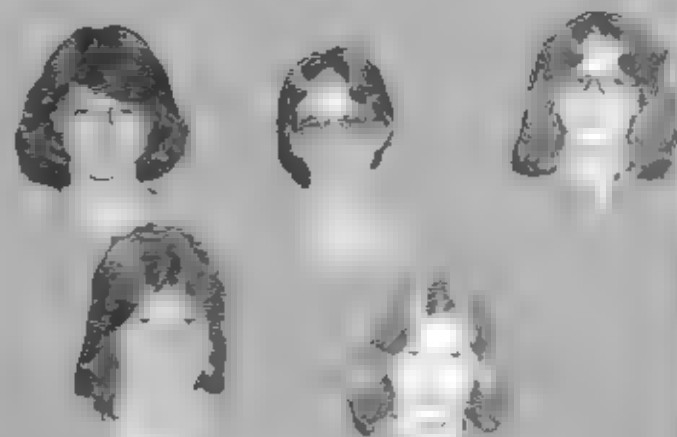

Activities were another part of our Junior year. Band and chorus provided us with beautiful music in their concerts. In sports, many Juniors advanced from Junior Varsity to the Varsity team, setting a firm foundation for next year's hopes of a championship. The Saturday night dances in the gym were fun, but the highlight of the year was the Junior Prom. Long dresses, suits and flowers made this night extra special. Senior pictures were taken in the spring amid the confusion of new clothes and combed hair. Then came the opportunity for which we had been waiting.

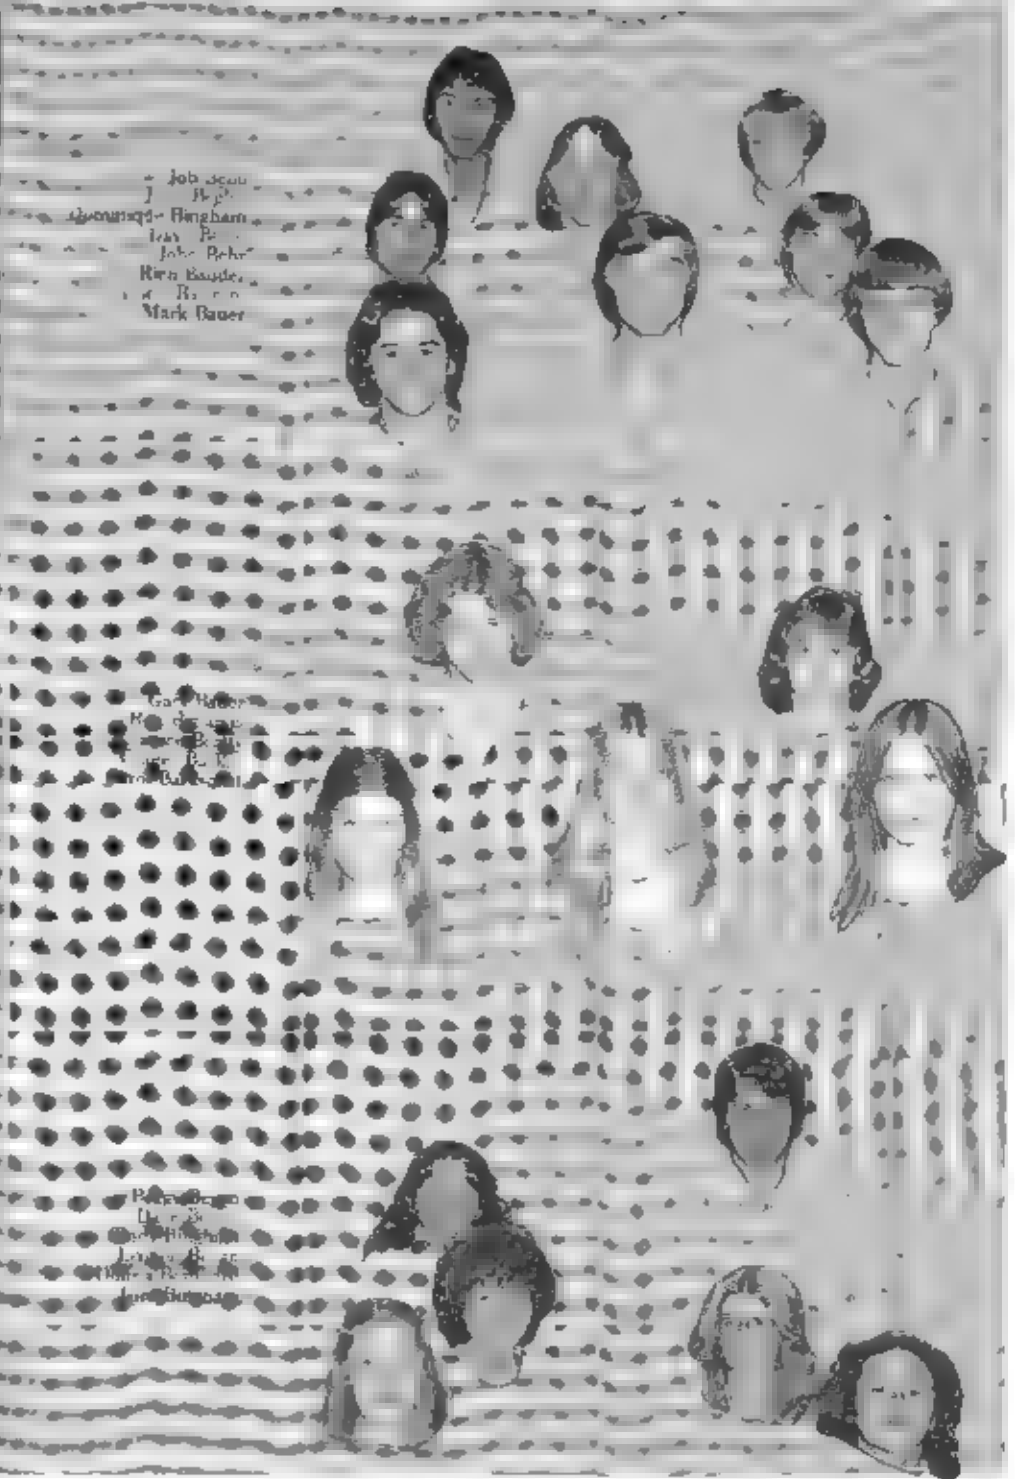

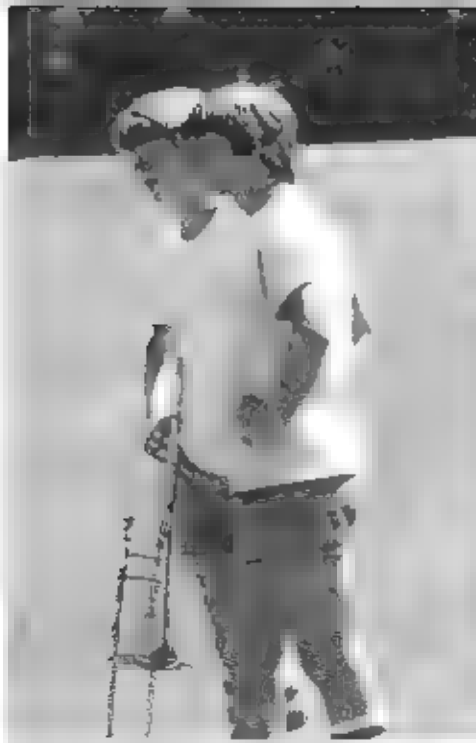

Our Junior year was full of fun and excitement forever present in our minds was next year, our year as the Class of '79.

In recent years the students at North Hills had become increasingly involved with the Media Scene. The Journalistic opportunities expanded to include the interests of many people. Through publication and broadcasting, North Hills' students were kept informed of the activities and special events that happened on the hilltop.

While the students enjoyed their participation in this field, valuable communication skills were also acquired. With the on-the-job training received by working in the communication sector, students prepared themselves for prospective careers. Even if they did not choose to pursue a job in the field of journalism, through the responsibility and cooperation needed to accomplish their goals students learned some important lessons. If nothing else, their involvement gave them a better understanding of media operations.

INDIANS OFF THE RESERVATION

The two pictures below were taken of the same Mc Knight and Seibert intersection. The small picture was shot in 1948. The other shows the tremendous growth of the area; it was taken in 1977. These pictures were provided by St. Sebastian Church on Seibert Road.

When the bell rang at 2:30 signaling the end of the school day, the students dispersed in many directions. Some had part-time jobs at local businesses and shops to earn extra spending money. Many students frequented the area stores trying to keep up with the latest fashions. They hung around Northway Mall and the newly enclosed North Hills Village. When there was no scheduled sporting event at North Hills, students went dancing at the disco at Mc Knight Smorg-a-Style, bowling, ice skating, skiing or to the movies. At the local theatres the kids were enthralled by the stories of "Star Wars", "Heroes" and laughed at "Oh, God". The community played an important part in the lives of the North Hills students.

DELAY

The Winter of '78 was filled with all of the elements that make up this, the harshest of seasons. There were many times when winter storms caused delays and the cancellation of several session days. The worst snowfall of the year gave Western Pennsylvania an accumulation of fifteen inches in twenty-four hours.

When school resumed, the snow and ice made crossing the ether building seem like a trip to the North Pole. Plowing through the piles of snow and slush on the island sidewalks, and the parking lot was an adventure for countless students. The slash dragged inside the doors of the buildings provided people with a chance to brush up on their swimming and skating skills as they splashed and slipped through the halls.

Fortunately the temperatures were not like those of 1977 when the highs for many days were below zero. But it seemed like these days were back in the Senior High on the day after Christmas vacation. The heating system had not been working for several days and the temperatures in the classrooms ranged from 42° to below freezing. In most rooms class could not be held since it required total concentration just to keep warm.

The cold and the snow, however, did not dampen the spirits of the student body.

Heidi Mockenhaupt and Debbie Schneider walk into the main lobby of the Senior High. Morrone Building students had many classes in the Senior High.

FACES IN THE CROWD

There were almost thirty-five hundred of us. Arranged and rearranged into Social Studies classes, English classes, Phys. Ed. classes, Gate study groups and many, many other combinations. We were assigned and directed by the computer that we hoped would spell our names right and would record our grades correctly. Of course, it could and did leave several of us out from time to time and we had to assert ourselves to get "back into the machine."

But we weren't satisfied to stay where we were put. What did computers know about interests or hobbies or friendships? We met new people and formed our circle of friends—groups much smaller than the computer understood and most of the time without adults in them. We began to dress alike so that other kids knew who our friends were or who our friends weren't. We wore red jackets with numbers on the sleeve and white letters on the back flap. We wore red sweat shirts—all alike—except for the numbers on the front and back. We stood around in groups in the halls and lobbies, in the rotunda and behind the Senior High. Challenged by new events we argued, disputed and changed our friends finding others with whom we felt more comfortable.

Somehow they noticed us. Some of us had to get in trouble to be picked out as individuals but most of us made it. We succeeded. We had nourished our individual personalities and had become distinct Faces in the Crowd.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Putting a yearbook together is no easy task. A lot of people listened to me say over and over, "Can you stay after-school today?" or "Could you do me a favor?". I would like to thank these people for devoting their time to the NORHIAN or for just being there when they were needed

Goodbyes are not Forever

*The road to the future begins in the past,
It carries us within the present.
As each day passes, new events happen;
Each moment etches itself upon our minds.
Memories form as time moves on.
Pleasant ones, sad ones,
Each an experience in itself.
The end of the year nears.
Preparations begin for that day when the future comes.
The year's last activities take place.
Each one with its own significance.
The day is here, the final day we'll walk together.
We take our places on the field,
And the ceremony begins.
We walk to the platform to receive our diploma.
Our bond for the future.
Tears of joy and laughter are easy now.
After, friends must say goodbye
And go their separate ways.
Our memories must move away
Making room for those that are to come.
But goodbyes are not forever.
Friendships and memories will still remain—Now and forever.*

The 1978 Norhian has been published by Henington Publishing Company, Wolfe City, Texas. The cover is quarter bound in red and blue leatherette and stamped in gold. The design for the cover is an original design.

The endleaf is 65 pound blue endleaf stock and illustrates in the front the Senior High School, in the back the Morrone Building as they appeared in 1978. Front and back endleaves are from original designs commissioned for this book.

The text paper is 80 pound matte white enamel. It was selected for its whiteness and its opacity. The typography is until nearly the end of this book Bodoni and Bodoni Italic, eminently readable typefaces in all sizes. The ad section was reset in many faces to give a sense of separateness and identity.
